Hanoi Target 'Total' Loss

SAIGON (UPI)—An American admiral today reported "almost total" destruction of military targets in yesterday's raid on Communist North Viet Nam. But Hanoi boasted the attacks would not prevent a Communist takeover in South Viet Nam.

The official report on the destruction came after Vice Adm. Paul P. Blackburn, commander of the U. S. 7th Fleet, who briefed correspondents aboard the aircraft carrier U.S.S. Ranger now operating in the South China Sea off Viet Nam.

The raid was directed against the Phu Qui area only 100 miles southeast of Hanoi. About 100 planes took part.

"This particular ammunition depot is not going to be very useful to those people up north for a long time," Blackburn said. "It was darn well beat up and there were a hell of a lot of fires and explosions."

CHARGE SHELLING

Communist North Viet Nam charged meanwhile that four American and South Vietnamese warships shelled Ha Tinh Province north of the 18th parallel and killed one old man and damaged a house.

The Radio Hanoi broadcast did not give a date for the alleged incident but claimed North Vietnamese forces repelled the attack and drove the ships southward.

In a belligerent statement published in its official newspaper, the Hanoi regime charged that yesterday's big raid deep into the heart of North Viet Nam was a new and "more serious act of war."

'BANDIT RAID'

The Soviet Union, speaking through the official Community party newspaper Pravda, termed the attack a "bandit raid" and said the U.S. policy of bombing North Viet Nam was "fraught with serious consequences."

Hanoi acknowledged that Monday's attack by more than 100 American planes "penetrated deeper" than any previous raid, making them "more serious still."

North Viet Nam said Communist anti-aircraft gunners shot down five planes in the attacking force and damaged "many others."

A U.S. spokesman here said one U.S. Navy plane crashed into the South China Sea as it was returning to its carrier. The pilot was listed as missing.

Chinese Blast Russ U.S. Stand

TOKYO (UPI) — Communist China sent an angry note to the Soviet Union today accusing the Kremlin of "abject subservience," to the United States.

The note, the third in a series growing out of a bloody demonstration March 4 outside the U. S. Embassy in Moscow, implied that students have a right to attack U. S. embassies and libraries anywhere without police interference.

It demands that Russia apologize for the fact that "in Moscow, of all places," police and soldiers fought with Chinese students in an effort to prevent further damage to the embassy.

City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer of Mill Valley was wished a "happy birthday" at 12:20 a.m today by Mayor Michael Wornum at the city council meeting

"Can't you sing?" asked Balmer, and the council and other city officials sang "Happy Birthday to You."

Then Balmer requested, "Can I be excused?" The mayor replied. "No." The meeting adjourned at 12:29 a.m.

Supervisors Vote Reeb Memorial

Marin County supervisors today set Saturday as a day of remembrance for Rev. James J. Reeb, Boston minister who died as the result of a beating in Selma last week.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker said the observance is being sponsored by a committee led by Katherine Jackson of Lucas Valley. Plans include collection stations in shopping areas for funds which will be sent to the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, he said. Collections may be sent to P.O. Box 4036 at the Civic Center and then forwarded to the conference.

The resolution, passed unanimously by the board, noted that Rev. Reeb was "viciously and brutally attacked and subsequently died as the result of injuries received in Selma as the result of his efforts on behalf of liberty and justice for all citizens."

County Administrator Alan Bruce reported that Walter Bremond, newly appointed director of community relations for the county, has gone to Selma on leave without pay. "He felt he had to," Bruce said.

Board Sets Schedule For Evening Sessions

Marin County supervisors today voted to have afternoon-night sessions on the second and fourth Mondays of each month.

The vote was 3-1, with supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen dissenting and supervisor Byron W. Leydecker absent.

Under the new schedule, which will go into effect April 20, the board will continue its present day schedule on the first, third and fifth Tuesdays.

Kettenhofen explained that he was not against holding a night meeting every other week, but he felt that by eliminating meetings every Tuesday the board would be losing time. He favored continuing the weekly Tuesday meetings and adding alternate Monday evening meetings.

The board will convene at 2 p.m. at Monday meetings, take a break for supper, and reconvene at 8 p.m.

Bishop Pike Calls Off Flight Plan

In response to President Lyndon B. Johnson's address to a joint session of Congress last night, Bishop James A. Pike of the Episcopal Diocese of California today cancelled plans for flight of 68 Bay Area ministers to Selma, Ala.

Instead there will be small representative groups of laymen and clergymen sent from the diocese to Washington, D.C., and to Selma.

Six Marin County ministers had planned to join the mass flight with Pike tomorrow.

Thirty students at San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo, who had planned to take a chartered bus to Selma at 6 p.m. today, called off the plans after learning just before noon that Rev. Martin Luther King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference had asked such trips be cancelled for the present.

Rev. John Riley of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, San Rafael, one of those who was slated to make the flight with Bishop Pike tomorrow, said the bishop decided to cancel that trip in a meeting with ministers this morning.

Corte Maderan Jailed In South

Michael J. Smith of Corte Madera, facing trial in Berkeley for his participation in the Sproul Hall sit-in demonstration, was arrested yesterday by Hinds County sheriff's officers in Mississippi, where he has been working on a voter registration drive.

Smith, 24, of 61 Pixley Avenue, left Marin Feb. 28 to work for the Freedom Democratic Party in McColm, Miss. He had received permission from a judge in Berkeley to make the trip and to submit his case in Berkeley on the basis of police reports.

He was one of 13 persons charged with disorderly conduct after refusing police orders to disperse outside the Hinds County Courthouse.

Ellender Promises Filibuster

COMBINED AP & UPI

WASHINGTON — President Johnson drew strong backing today from both Democratic and Republican ranks in his call for speedy congressional action to assure equal voting rights for all Americans.

Addressing a joint session of Congress, Johnson said last night that "the time for waiting is gone . . . from outside this chamber is the outraged conscience of a nation — the grave concern of many nations —and the harsh judgment of history on our acts."

CRIES OF PAIN

He said "the cries of pain, and the hymns and protests of oppressed people" must be answered without delay, hesitation or compromise.

The President told the crowded House chamber that last week's violence at Selma, Ala. — where state troopers used billy clubs and tear gas to halt a march by civil rights demonstrators — like Lexington, Concord and Appomattox was "a turning point in man's unending search for freedom."

WE SHALL OVERCOME

In an often eloquent address Johnson told the lawmakers and the nation that "the time of justice has now come. No force can hold it back."

Then, citing the words of the song which has echoed through numberless skirmishes in the long civil rights battle, he said that all Americans — not just Negroes — must overcome "the crippling legacy of bigotry and injustice. And we shall overcome."

Republicans and Democrats from the North and West indicated general agreement with Johnson's objectives and with his plan for a "simple, uniform standard" and the elimination of "restrictions to voting in all elections — federal, state and local — which have been used to deny Negroes the right to vote."

Viet Equipment Called Suitable

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Army Secretary Stephen Ailes told Congress today that American fighting men in South Viet Nam are using the "most suitable" equipment for the job to be done.

Without specificall mentioning the criticisms, Ailes responded to charges by some congressmen that U. S. "advisers" in Viet Nam have not always had the most up-to-date or satisfactory weapons.

Ailes testified at a closed session of the House Armed Services Committee, but his statement was made public by the committee.

Corte Madera Mayor Really Running Town

Corte Madera Mayor Edward W. Colthurst got a second job last night: town manager.

It will be only temporary, though.

The Corte Madera Town Council made the mayor acting town manager on departure of Arthur H. Brandow at the end of this month, and voted to make Philip B. Lygren of San Rafael acting town engineer, also on a temporary basis.

Brandow, who has been both manager and engineer for nine years, is leaving to become city administrator of Belmont.

The appointment of Colthurst was done technically by default. State law requires that the mayor take over administrative duties if no town manager is named by the council, and when the point on the agenda came to discuss an appointment, the council merely moved onto the next item without a motion.

Councilman Charles F. Pendleton then suggested that Colthurst be given the job until the council recruits a new manager.

Colthurst suggested Lygren, head of an engineering firm at 3562 Redwood Highway, San Rafael, as engineer.

Lygren said he would serve the town temporarily on an hourly basis, rather than on a flat retainer fee, and would not do any private work for his firm on land within town boundaries.

No mention was made of a salary for Colthurst.

Wolfe Grade Plan 'Conditions' Given

Directors of the Kentfield Civic League last night agreed they might some day support an extension of Wolfe Grade from Sir Francis Drake Boulevard to Bon Air Bridge.

But they set so many prior conditions on their support that agreement by the county would be difficult.

By 7-0 vote, the board asked the county board of supervisors to hold another hearing on the controversial road project, giving a proposal for construction of the extension only after Bon Air Road has been realigned and widened to four lanes.

The directors said privately owned property between Wolfe Grade School and Marin Catholic High School should first be purchased by the county and made into a park.

Finally, the board demanded that the Kentfield School District be allowed to build an entrance road from the present Wolfe Grade intersection to Wolfe Grade School, with a westbound left turn lane on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and four-way stop signals.

The private entrance road would not have to be built to county road standards, the directors added, but the four-way signal would not be installed until Sir Francis Drake was widened to four lanes west of Laurel Grove Avenue.

The civic league board said rerouting of Bon Air Road should allow construction of a parkling lot for Marin General Hospital but should not swing in such a wide arc as to make through traffic flow difficult.

If all the conditions set by the board are met by the county, the civic league will not oppose the extension of Wolfe Grade when traffic conditions warrant.

Senate Bank Probers Told Regulator Hid Key Report

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The office of the chief federal bank regulator hid a key report on the floundering San Francisco National Bank from the Federal Reserve Board which loaned nearly $10 million to the now-defunct bank, Senate investigators were told today.

Abraham Merritt, vice president of the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco, told the Senate investigations subcommittee that he never saw part of a "confidential" report made in May, 1964.

The report, outlined by subcommittee Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., showed that $272,471 was deposited to the account of the bank's president Don C. Silverthorne. The money represented proceeds of loans granted by the San Francisco National Bank to borrowers for purchasing stock in the bank, the report said.

McClellan said it was believed that the loans covered total financing of stock purchases in the same bank which made the loans.

"Did that indicate wrong doing?" McClellan asked Merritt.

"This was not in our report," said Merritt. "I didn't know

Decision Delayed By Judge

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — At least two civil rights demonstrators were injured today when mounted sheriff's deputies rode into their ranks, swinging clubs, canes and ropes.

Two youths — among about 600 college students taking part in a march blocked by police — were taken from the melee with blood gushing from head wounds.

MOUNTED DEPUTIES

The mounted deputies rode into the standing college students, including many from Northern cities, after the marchers had been contained for about two hours.

Police earlier halted the marchers about four blocks from the state capitol.

The march started from Alabama State College, a Negro school where students have been organizing demonstrations during the past week. A street sit-down last night was broke up by mounted sheriff's deputies after demonstrators hurled rocks and bottles at police.

There was no indication from anyone involved as to what provoked the incident.

COURT FIGHT

Also at Montgomery a federal judge withheld today an immediate decision in the court fight by civil rights attorneys for an order permitting a right-to-vote highway march from Selma to Montgomery.

U.S. Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. said upon completion of testimony in a five-day hearing that he would hand down a decision as soon as possible.

Johnson gave no indication when the ruling would come.

At Selma a Negro leader said today that a 50-mile pilgrimage to the state capital is needed to keep alive the drive which has brought new legislative proposals from President Johnson.

"We must march to keep this issue before Negroes and white people everywhere," said the Rev. James Bevel, denim-clad field lieutenant of the Negro voter drive led by the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr.

Bevel told a church rally of

President Given Bipartisan Support On Voting Proposal

nite minority — mainly from six Southern states primarily affected — threatened delaying tactics against the legislation, which Johnson said he would send to Congress tomorrow after outlining it to congressional leaders today.

Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., said he would filibuster against the measure.

Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., said his House Judiciary Committee would start hearings on the bill a week from today and predicted House action by early next month. Senate leaders were uncertain on a timetable.

The bill will call for appointment of federal registrars by the Civil Service Commission to guarantee that all qualified persons are permitted to vote in areas where fewer than 50 per cent of those qualified are registered, or where fewer than 50 per cent voted in last year's presidential election.

Justice Department officials said this would apply to the states of Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Virginia, Georgia and South Carolina. Fewer than 50 per cent voted in Alaska, but officials blamed this on cold weather, rather than discrimination.

Johnson called on Congress to work nights and weekends if necessary to pass the voting rights bill.

"There must be no delay, or no hesitation, or no compromise with our purpose," he said.

Johnson said "the real hero of this struggle is the American Negro" whose "actions and protests — his courage to risk safety, and even to risk his life — have awakened the conscience of this nation."

He defended "the right of free speech and the right of free assembly" but noted that "free assembly does not carry with it the right to block public thoroughfares to traffic."

Even as he spoke, a small band of pickets paced in front of the White House, as they have for a week, singing and chanting slogans urging federal intervention in Alabama.

Three hours before Johnson's appearance in the House chamber, Capitol police dragged out eleven Negro and white youths who staged a day-long sit-in near the office of Speaker John W. McCormack. They demanded that McCormack support a move to reduce by half Alabama's congressional delegation.

The President spoke slowly and solemnly to the packed chamber. He was interrupted by applause about 40 times during the 45 minutes it took him to deliver his speech.

"There, long-suffering men and women peacefully protested the denial of their rights as Americans. Many were brutally assaulted. One good man — a man of God — was killed," the President said.

"There is no cause for pride in what happened in Selma.

"There is no cause of self-satisfaction in the long denial of equal rights of millions of Americans. But there is cause for hope and for faith in our democracy in what is happening here tonight.

"For the cries of pain, the hymns and protests of oppressed people, have summoned into convocation all the majesty of the government of the greatest nation on earth.

"Our mission is at once the oldest and most basic of this country: To right wrong, to do justice, to serve man."

Many Southern lawmakers stayed away, and many of those who were present refrained from the applause.

The absentees included the assistant Senate Democratic leader, Russell B. Long of Louisiana, who has said he would support a voting rights bill he considers reasonable; Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., to whose Senate Judiciary Committee the measure will be referred; and ailing Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., longtime floor captain of the Southern anti-civil rights bloc.

Several Southern congressmen indicated support for the measure.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, said: "The probabilities are I'll vote for the bill."

Rep. George W. Grider, D-Tenn., a freshman from Memphis, said: "As much as I detest the need for it, we must pass legislation that assures once and for all that no one will be denied the right to vote because of the color of his skin. I shall support such legislation."

But Rep. George Andrews, D-Ala., said, "The President sold out to the Negroes 100 per cent."

Sen. Ellender said: "If the President attempts to have Congress define the qualifications of voters, I'll not only oppose it but I shall filibuster against it."

Southern opponents of the 1964 Civil Rights Act delayed Senate action for three months with a filibuster that attempted to talk the bill to death. A bipartisan coalition finally broke the filibuster, and the law was passed.

Democratic congressional leaders were generally highly enthusiastic over Johnson's speech. House Speaker John W. McCormack called it "an accomplishment in the first rank of statesmanship" and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said it was "a magnificent statement of national purpose and determination."

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, who has been conferring with administration officials in efforts to assure bipartisan support for the voting rights bill, said it was "a good speech, effective, persuasive and well pinpointed. It will bear fruit, I'm sure."

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford said the President's plan was deficient in that it could penalize states which do not discriminate against Negroes and fail to resolve problems in some that do.

GRAHAM SAYS NO NEED NOW FOR RACIAL DEMONSTRATIONS

HONOLULU (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham, after listening to President Johnson's speech to Congress, yesterday urged an end to racial demonstrations.

He said future race differences in the United States can be settled in the courts and at the ballot box.

Rev. Graham termed Johnson's speech "the greatest speech on civil rights of any president since Lincoln.

"He (the President) pointed the way to a new America where both races can live together in peace and goodwill."

Viet Cong Death Toll Estimates Cut Back

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department said, in effect, today that only part of Gen. Harold K. Johnson's estimate of 75,000 Communists killed in South Viet Nam was based on verified reports.

The Pentagon said the Viet Cong toll listed for 1964 and so far in 1965 is based on actual count of Communist bodies. This total comes to about 20,500 enemy dead.

It is not known how the figures were arrived at prior to 1964, the Pentagon said.

U.S. officials on the spot have said that Viet Cong casualty figures have been based largely on unauthenticated statistics provided by Vietnamese governments, together with claimed results from air strikes against the Communists.

The validity of figures on enemy casualties put out by the U.S. government has been at issue since early this month when Gen. Johnson, the Army chief of staff, told the Senate Armed Services Committee that about 75,000 Viet Cong had been killed so far.

Among others, Sen. Stephen Young, D-Ohio, has disputed the accuracy of Johnson's figures. In response to inquiries about the method of determining casualty figures, the Defense Department said that only a body count is now used as a basis for reports.

Both South Vietnamese troops and U.S. advisers are sources for these statistics, the Pentagon said. U.S. advisers with the Vietnamese units verify the count on the spot, it said.

Statistics for 1964 and 1965 "are considered reliable," the Defense Department said.

It did not vouch for statistics on Viet Cong casualties in 1961, 1962 or 1963 — all of which formed part of the basis for Gen. Johnson's 75,000 estimate.

According to a yearend roundup released Jan. 6 by the U.S. Military Assistance Command in Saigon, an estimated 10,000 Communists were killed in action in 1961, 21,000 in 1962 and 21,000 in 1963.

Prop. 14's Validity Is Upheld

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A superior court judge has upheld validity of Proposition 14, a controversial housing measure passed last November.

Superior Judge Martin Katz added, however, that the courts are not obliged to help landlords to evict tenants by applying Proposition 14.

Judge Katz ruled yesterday that owners of a West Los Angeles apartment house could legally refuse to rent an apartment to Dr. Thomas R. Peyton, a Negro physician.

But the judge also ruled that the court could not order the eviction of Wilfred I. Prendergast, a Negro insurance agent, from an apartment on Burton Way rented by Prendergast's wife, Carola, who is white.

The landlords' attorneys interpreted the court's ruling as:

Landlords can refuse to rent or sell property for any reason, including race. But landlords can't ask the court to help them evict persons because of race, since this would constitute prejudice by the state, in violation of the U. S. Constitution's 14th Amendment.

Both reports agreed that no embassy employees were hurt.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT DAY

Youthful San Rafael 'Planner' Almost Sacked By 'City Council'

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Reporter David Hassett, fresh from England, has covered his first city council meeting in the U.S.A. The I-J felt it appropriate that his first such meeting be the first (and only) meeting of the 1965 Youth in Government city council.)

By DAVID HASSETT

As city planners go, Harry Salberg is fairly eloquent when it comes to expounding his well-defined views to the city council that appointed him.

But sometimes (as city planners are wont to do) he says the wrong thing at the wrong time; and yesterday when he did just that at a rather unusual council meeting, he all but earned himself the sack.

Did that worry Salberg? Not a bit. He simply ignored Councilman Chris Dlugokenski's call for his resignation and ploughed on regardless, indulging in a rare old piece of councilroom repartee.

Actually he could afford to be brash. For Barry is still a student at San Rafael High School and the episode that should have made him blush, but didn't, was very much in the make-believe mold.

It occurred during San Rafael's student city council session—the highlight of annual Youth in Government Day activities which give the youngsters a chance to learn about the machinery of municipal government in the roles of city officials.

The awkward moment came when the "mayor," 17-year-old Dave Hellman, asked his city planner for some details on the city's street projects.

Salberg launched into a lighthearted monologue. Finally Dlugokenski, bent on cutting the cackle, interposed, "If our city planner had left his comedy routine at home and come up with some definite answers, we could make some progress."

So the Golden Gate Bridge question cropped up. Dlugokenski suggested a second deck for traffic; Salberg said this was futile. The row was on.

Mayor Hellman (no doubt dismayed by the thought of out-of-work city planners) neatly sidestepped his colleague's final bid to oust the whole planning department and called for the next item.

One young man quite happy with the way things were handled was Fire Chief Scott Rubenstein. He got the council's undivided approval for a new fire station and truck costing a mere $100,000.

The council members refused to entertain a request from the City of Tiburon for support in opposing a plan to run a bridge from there across the Bay. They were all adamant: another bridge is definitely needed.

City engineer Rod Holman talked about clearing traffic off Fourth Street to turn it into a mall, and was assured by attractive Police Chief Sue McKinnon that this would not add to the congestion. Holman thought green asphalt on the road would look rather nice—but a wary council deferred the issue.

The full roll call was:

Elected officials: Mayor, Hellman; councilmen, Dlugokenski, Sharon Dixon, Carol Graham, Paul Vanderbilt; city attorney, Sue Aaron; police chief, Miss McKinnon; city clerk, Norland Brace; treasurer, Bill Pandiani.

Appointed officials: City manager, Paul Morse; city engineer, Holman; building inspector, Jerry Huffaker; recreation director, Jim Kilgore; fire chief, Rubenstein; director of public works, Bill Troutman; finance officer, Lee Noble; city planner, Salberg; superintendent of schools, Lonee Hoytt.

Genuine City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen said after the meeting that next year the city hopes to include Terra Linda High School students in the event.

The city's Student Government Day was originated by the San Rafael Kiwanis Club.

Fairfax CD Post Called Untenable

Fairfax Civil Defense Director Gordon B. Adams walked out of last night's Fairfax City Council meeting to emphasize his contention the city now has two civil defense directors.

Fairfax's new city administrator ordinance makes the administrator responsible to the council for civil defense matters.

Adams, who has been civil defense director since July 10, 1963, said in a letter to the council that the ordinance puts him in a "possibly illegal but certainly untenable position" were he to continue as civil defense director.

He walked out of the meeting when it appeared his letter was not to receive priority over other items on the agenda.

Adams said today that Councilman Robert R. Souza had promised he would bring the matter up after the reading of the minutes at the beginning of the meeting. Souza said last night he had been asked to do this but had not promised anything.

The council passed the dilemma to the new city administrator, David J. Sumbardo, who took up his duties yesterday.

Sumbardo was apparently given another job last night by default: setting policies for the operation of the Fairfax Women's Clubhouse, which the city took over last week.

Councilman Robert R. Souza suggested that Sumbardo study the costs of operating the club and come up with proposals for rates and regulations.

No other means of deciding on the rates and rules was proposed, so Sumbardo apparently has the job, although other councilmen did not agree or disagree.

The council set temporary rates for the next 60 days and decided that regular users would pay the rentals they had been charged by the women's club, former operators of the clubhouse.

The temporary rate schedule for any new group using the clubhouse, proposed by councilman George A. Pagni, ranges from $15 to $35 a night for nonprofit functions, and from $20 to $45 a night for fund-raising functions. A $5 fee was added for cleanup.

The Fairfax City Council Also:

1. Requested an extension from April 1 to April 12 of its employees group medical insurance policy with Travelers Insurance Co., to consider whether the city is paying a fair share of the rising premium charges. Travelers proposed an increase in monthly premiums of $2 per employee, the second such increase in two years. Police Chief James Orr said that as far as some of his men are concerned, the rates have gone up "about as high as they can."

2. Authorized City Administrator Sumbardo to meet with county officials to discuss county financial help in drawing up a master plan for Fairfax and surrounding unincorporated areas.

3. Asked that Clearview Television Co. appear before the council with details of plans for laying cables in Fairfax. City Engineer Richard J. Nelson said he had been unable to get written information on the company's plans.

Tighter Design Control Sought In San Anselmo

San Anselmo planning commission chairman Jerrry W. Lloyd last night submitted a draft of an ordinance which would give the commission architechural design control over new buildings in all parts of the city except single family and duplex residential zones.

He said the ordinance was needed to allow the city to preserve important topographic features in some areas and to insure new buildings maintained the city's present character The planning commission would make its own design reviews.

The commission also received a series of proposed technical changes in the city slope policy from commissioner Charles Leitzell. A more complete draft of the changes is expected at next month's meeting.

Leitzell said the changes would alter the way in which slope of a lot is computed.

A proposal by Ralph O. Jennings to subdivide six acres on Woodside Drive between Butterfield Road and Woodside Court into six large parcels was returned to the applicant. Commissioners said they wanted a road running through the property.

Commissioners James Murphy and E. L. Nordmann were absent.

Ascherman Hearing Continued To Monday

Tiburon Boulevard 'Humanizing' Urged

The Tiburon Planning Commission last night urged its city council to help finance plans to "humanize" extension of Tiburon Boulevard.

State highway officials have plans only for a straight, four-lane road which would not allow cars to stop along the shoreline, the commissioners said. They passed a resolution asking the city help pay planning consultants Williams, Cook and Mocine of San Francisco to draw plans for a road which would follow shoreline curves, include a pedestrian and bicycle path, viewpoints, parking for access to the shore by fishermen, landscaping to give the road a "parklike theatment."

Officials of Tiburon, Belvedere, the State Department of Fish and Game, Tiburon Peninsula Coordinating council, Marin Conservation League and Marin Audubon Society met with state highway officials recently and were assured that a "recreational oriented plan would receive careful consideration," according to the resolution.

Commissioner Helen Newman, who drafted the resolution, reported the other groups are expected to donate money toward the plan.

Planning commissioners approved use of the wooden building on the bay side of Paradise Drive, formerly used by the Northwestern Pacific Railroad, for office and yacht brokerage offices, at request of Tiburon Tidelands, Inc.

Novato Pioneer Memorial Park Cleanup Day Slated

A public cleanup day for Novato's Pioneer Memorial Park will be held March 27.

Edward W. Adams, recreation director, announced the date at last night's meeting of the Novato parks and recreation commission. The Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce and North Marin Youth Council will sponsor the cleanup.

The North Marin Youth Council asked the commission to consider a teen center and a summer work program for teenagers. The commission suggested the teens make a survey on the need for a center, and referred the works program request to Adams.

Teen dances at the community house, to be co-sponsored by the parks and recreation department and the youth council, who set for April 5 and 17.

The commission se for March 20 a review of the parks and recreation master plan.

Adams presented a proposed schedule of salaries and jobs for the summer recreation program, calling for a 15 per cent increase in salaries. It was taken under study.

Bales Files Livestock Complaint

A public nuisance complaint, possibly the first of several, was filed today by the district attorney's office against J. A. Fagundes for alleged failure to feed and properly fence livestock he already is charged with neglecting.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said a letter from Marin County Humane Society was sent last Friday to Fagundes at his home at 1150 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo, giving him until yesterday to feed horses, cattle and pigs on three ranches.

He said today Fagundes has not complied.

Bales said Fagundes has been notified to appear for arraignment on the complaint at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow.

"If no steps are taken to discontinue this nuisance," he said, "I will file the same complaint anew each day."

Tools Stolen From Sheds In San Rafael

San Rafael police yesterday received complaints of two construction site shed break-ins during the weekend.

Tools and other property worth a total of $829 were reported stolen from a storage shed at 750 Los Gallinos owned by McDonald and Nelson Inc., of Oakland. Among items taken were three electric drills, a skill saw, and two men's jackets.

A 100-foot steel tape measure was the only known property stolen from Pacific Coast Builders' shack at San Rafael High School.

Tennis instructor Herbert Pimlo Clark of Daly City, complained yesterday that a white plastic basket and about 300 tennis balls worth $90 disappeared from his padlocked wooden locker on the Dominican College tennis courts at Forest Meadows. The locker was pried open.

Attorney Stephen H. Kaufmann told police an $80 typewriter was stolen from his office in the Herzog-Rake Building at 1005 A Street.

Theft of a metal money box containing $55 from the office of Fair, Isaac and Co., 1400 Lincoln Avenue, between 5 p.m. Friday and noon yesterday was reported.

Spare Tire Stolen

Anita B. Snawder of 92 Southern Heights Boulevard, San Rafael, told police Saturday someone had stolen the spare tire from the trunk of her Volkswagen.

School's Expansion Cost High

Three quarters of a million dollars in construction may be required for expansion of the seventh and eighth grade curriculum in Mill Valley School District, trustees were told last night by architect William Corlett.

Corlett based his preliminary estimate of $716,000 for buildings and $25,000 for equipment on a "blue sky" statement of needs furnished by administrators.

Included in space requirements are added facilities for art, drama, manual arts, home economics and typing and the expansion of music and physical education activities.

Trustees requested Supt. G. R. McConnell and staff to work out a program calling for less construction and fuller utilization of space.

The board moved its next meeting ahead to Monday.

Marlin Dornbush, special teacher and assistant to the Alto and Strawberry Point schools principal, was named principal of the summer session to be held July 6 to 30.

Trustees accepted an offer of Tamalpais High School District to improve the Edna Maguire School track, athletes to use Tamalpais facilities during construction.

Bernice Lindsey, formerly a Park School teacher and now teaching in Germany, was granted a one-year extension of her leave of absence.

Easter Seal Society Given Pat On Back

The Marin Easter Seal Society received a telegram of congratulations from Lucille Ball, national Easter Seal campaign chairman, yesterday at a meeting celebrating the 25th anniversary of its founding.

The telegram from the actress said the Marin society is doing a "remarkable job."

Tam District Teachers Ask Pay Increases

Tamalpais High School District teachers last night asked for a new salary schedule putting the top pay at $12,150 per year, and were told by one district trustee that may not be high enough.

Robert J. Mautner, chairman of the salary committee of the Tamalpais District Teachers Assn., presented a request for a schedule raising the minimum from $5,600 to $5,950 per year and the maximum from $11,250 to $12,150. Progression would be in 13 steps, as in the present schedule.

Mautner presented a comparison chart showing that, although the Tamalpais district was second highest among nine allegedly similar high school districts in the Bay Area in 1962-63, it is now fifth in the same list. He said San Mateo High School District is going to $12,900 maximum salary.

Chairman J. M. Stubblebine of the board said if the salary committee's recommendation is followed "we may fall behind" in recruitment and retention of teachers. He suggested a fourth progression scale be added to provide higher pay for teachers long in the district and with special qualifications. He asked that the salary committee prepare two more proposals, one with a scale running to $12,500 maximum and the other running to $13,000.

Mautner was flabbergasted.

None of the other trustees commented on Dr. Stubblebine's suggestion, although Dr. John C. Siemens, the second physician on the board, asked, "Where is the money coming from?"

Siemens had earlier stated his position: that Mautner's presentation was not tied to the cost of living, that competition among districts in paying teachers is "a game" with little meaning to him, and that the interest of the taxpayer must be considered as well as that of the teacher. He also pointed out that adopting a higher salary schedule might make difficulties if unification is voted by the 11 districts making up Tam High School District.

Trustees promised to try to have a decision on teacher salaries at their April 19 meeting—the night before the unification election.

The Tamalpais High School District board also:

1. Accepted schematic drawings for the San Geronimo Valley high school presented by architect Ralph B. Priestley, and authorized him to proceed with working drawings, to be completed within six months.
2. Heard from Asst. Supt. Robert D. Torrey that he interviewed between 50 and 60 teacher candidates during a recruitment tour of Southern California, some of whom will come to Larkspur for further interviews.
3. Approved 40 courses for the spring quarter adult evening school. Portuguese is the only new course added.
4. Heard from Supt. Chester G. Carlisle that accreditation teams from the Western Assn. of Schools and Colleges will visit Tamalpais, Sir Francis Drake and Redwood high schools next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

there was another part of the report."

Merritt said the Federal Reserve received a copy of an examination conducted by the office of James J. Saxon, comptroller of the currency, but it did not include anything on the Silverthorne transaction.

Merritt appeared surprised at the section of the report read by McClellan. He said later that within the past two years the Federal Reserve had not been receiving all the information available to the comptroller's office.

"Isn't this unusual when you are making loans, trying to save this bank?" McClellan asked.

William McChesney Martin, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, testified that the San Francisco bank owed $9,260,000 to the Federal Reserve when it closed.

The testimony by Merritt that the comptroller's office withheld the report about Silverthorne's activities came after the subcommittee asked federal officials to work with state banking agencies to root out underworld infiltration of the banking industry.

In Selma, King led the massive memorial march in tribute to the Rev. James J. Reeb, the slain minister.

King said in a written statement today that Johnson's address was "one of the most eloquent, unequivocal and passionate pleas for human rights ever made by a president of the United States."

King, encouraged by the removal of the "Selma wall," said today he would extend the perimeter of his Negro voter registration campaign into four rural Alabama counties.

He said that he personally will lead a "freedom" walk from Selma to Montgomery if a federal court, now hearing testimony in an injunction suit, rules the march legal.

Maj. Trymon W. Hunter, 43, of Sonoma, remained in critical condition today at Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital. He suffured a heart attack Sunday afternoon at the hospital after he had driven his injured son there from Sonoma.

Sheriff Hits Report On Crime Rise

Marin County reported the highest increase in crime in California last year, according to the March 22 issue of U.S. News and World Report, which went on sale yesterday.

Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos said today the magazine's information was based on incorrect statistics.

In a story entitled, "Is Crime in the U.S. Out of Hand?" the weekly magazine said: "Big-city slums still account for much crime. However, California's largest increase last year was reported in Marin County, a San Francisco suburb which boasts the highest average income of any county in the state.

"Two other wealthy counties, Santa Barbara and San Mateo, followed.

Sheriff Mountanos said a misunderstanding about the kinds of juvenile cases which were handled by the juvenile bureau and reported to Sacramento was the cause of the magazine's report.

"The juvenile bureau listed every incident in which officers talked with juveniles in its report to Sacramento," Mountanos said.

"We learned after the statistics were published that only the juvenile cases involving arrests were to have been reported."

Boys 'Found Guilty' In Mail Box Tampering

Two boys, aged 3 and 4, were found guilty yesterday by their mothers of a federal offense, tampering with a mail box.

After being notified by San Anselmo police, the mothers took their children and helped them clean out the tooth paste they had squeezed into the mail box of Mrs. G. W. Young, 8 Sunny Drive.

Lack Of Quorum

There was no meeting last night of the Marin County Redevelopment Agency Commission because of lack of a quorum. The meeting was rescheduled for 8 p.m. today in the Community Lounge.

BOOMING TRADE IN TEA

Businessmen Herbie Schaffer (left) and Timmie Baker, both 10, established a going tea and popcorn store at an alley entrance on B Street between Fifth Avenue and Fourth Street in San Rafael yesterday. Terry Meeks, drinking tea, and Gregory Horan, eating popcorn, were among the many customers. San Rafael schools were closed for teacher visitation day yesterday. Herbie had to close the business early, however—he still had his job delivering the Independent-Journal. (Independent-Journal photo)

I-J Blasted For Litter In Mill Valley

Jerome C. Hauke last night lambasted the Independent-Journal before the Mill Valley City Council for printing an editorial on litter cleanup yesterday while being one of the "primary contributors."

Hauke, city park and recreation director said newspaper boys congregate to pick up their papers near his home at Sycamore Avenue and Valley Circle. Following a few complaints, said Hauke, we now no longer have paper on this corner but in Sycamore Park."

He swung a rolled paper on his hand and said he found at least 50 in the park yesterday evening.

He asked the city manager's aid in a positive program for pickup of old newspapers, plus wires that get caught in the lawnmower, and threatened: "If that paper isn't cleaned out of there (the park) by one week, I will personally clear it out and deliver it to the I-J office."

City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer said he has been bothered by the same problem at two other locations and has advised the Mill Valley district circulation manager.

Auction Of Goheen Land Is Postponed

Public auction of 340 acres in the Larkspur vicinity and originally purchased by George S. Goheen Sr. and associates was postponed in Marin Superior Court today until April 20.

The land, intended for subdivision and involved in a foreclosure suit by holders of trust deeds on a loan by the Los Angeles Trust Deed and Mortgage Exchange, is expected to be repurchased at the auction by Goheen, Mill Valley contractor, and his group.

Radtke Appointed To Fairfax Council

Former Fairfax Mayor Waldemar E. Radtke was appointed last night to fill the Fairfax City Council seat left vacant by resignation of his successor, Cornelis Van Vliet.

An effort to place another name in nomination was thwarted by a ruling by City Atty. Wallace S. Myers.

Councilman Peter R. Arrigoni moved that Radtke be appointed to the vacant council seat and his motion was seconded by Councilman George A. Pagni.

At this point, Councilman Robert R. Souza attempted to nominate Mrs. Adelaide Wilson of 189 Cascade Drive.

Asked for his opinion, attorney Myers said that since one motion was already before the council, it should be considered before any other motion on the vacancy.

Mayor Frank L. Lawrence said the League of California Cities recommend that names be placed in nomination first, and then voted on.

Myers said, "The ordinary procedure is to consider a motion."

"I believe we should have a choice," said Souza. He said he wanted Mrs. Wilson, to get representation for women on the council and a "new approach to city administration."

Souza and Lawrence accepted Myers' opinion and Radtke's appointment was voted 3-1, with Souza opposing. Souza then moved to make the appointment unanimous.

Radtke was elected to the Fairfax council in 1960 and was appointed mayor in 1962. Last lear he decided not to run for council again and when the new council was seated, Van Vliet was elected mayor.

Van Vliet resigned last month, the day following selection of David J. Sumbardo as city administrator. Van Vliet had favored City Engineer Richard J. Nelson for the job.

Radtke when on the council had opposed hiring of a full-time city administrator on the basis that it would cost too much and Nelson could perform both jobs.

THE 'STREAMLINED' LOOK

Unsightly wooden poles, with their forests of wires, are gone from the center strip of the widened portion of Third Street in San Rafael between Union Street and Embarcadero with completion of a "streamlined" installation by Pacific Gas and Electric Co. Mayor John F. McInnis, in a letter to George M. Henderson, San Rafael manager of PG&E, expressed the city's appreciation "for tremendous improvement in the appearance of the area." There are still some wooden service poles on south side of street, however, as shown in photo.

Merchants Hear Plans To Keep Downtown Alive

Chamber Is Told San Rafael Shopping Area Has Good Future

Downtown San Rafael has every chance of staying alive as a shopping area attractive to customers, 35 central area merchants were reassured today.

Members of the business development committee of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce outlined plans to keep the downtown section a strong link in what committee chairman Walter R. Zurcher called a "chain" comprising local and regional shopping centers extending from the future Strawberry center to Northgate.

San Rafael Public Works Director Norris M. Rawles reported work already in progress to ease traffic and parking problems.

Half of the spaces on the top levels of the city's new twin-deck parking lots at Fifth Avenue and C Street and Third and Lutens streets have been changed to four-hour metered parking, to permit shoppers more time for their downtown visits, he announced.

State work on Highway 101 connections to downtown and Grand Avenue should be complete by fall, he said. When the state work is finished, the city will make Second Street one-way eastbound, Third Street one-way westbound, will channel northbound Francisco Boulevard traffic onto a Grand Avenue extension, and synchronize traffic signals to speed traffic flow.

Chamber manager Jack Alvarado described plans for the March 31 train tour to Fresno, to inspect the ciyt's new downtown mall, state college campus, Manchester Shopping Center and civic air terminal.

Other speakers included Irving Chapman, head of the development subcommittee on programs and meetings and George Lawrence. Chapman read a talk written by Frank Fogarty, who was unable to attend. The speakers stressed importance of widespread participation in sales and promotions, giving good customer service, and effective merchandising.

The downtown group will continue morning meetings, chairman Zurcher announced. Today's breakfast was in the Villa Rafael.

Relocation Of Police Discussed

Mill Valley city councilmen last night discussed a proposal to locate the police department and main fire station on city-owned land on Camino Alto near East Blithedale Avenue, then referred it to the planning commission.

City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer told the council the city has $60,000 for a second fire station. He asked that, instead of just a second fire station, the council approve hiring an architect to design a building to include both departments.

SHAMFULLY HOUSED

There would still be a fire station in the city hall. Removal of some fire facities would give space on city hall's second floor for an engineering department which Balmer said he plans.

"Our police department is now rather shamefully housed," the manager said.

The new fire station should have area for a training tower plas a space to wash down equipment, now inadequate, he suggested.

The council adopted an ordinance to annex the 137-acre high school-tidelands area to the city, effective in 30 days. Vote was 4-0, Councilman Joseph E. Sheeks abstaining.

This climaxed long and stormy hearings on the subject. Mayor Michael Wornum reprimanded Attorney S. J. Hugh Allen, who last week filed a mandate petition in Marin Superior Court for his client, George Zaro, for an annexation "cease and desist." Wornum said he resented words used by Allen such as "fraud" and charging the city with using "coercive practices."

MAYOR CHIDED

J. A. de Becker chided the mayor, saying these are words used by lawyers. "I think you should have just left this unnoticed," said de Becker. Allen said nothing.

Councilman Sheeks told the council architect plans for the new library are "virtually complete" and the library board will review final plans Thursday evening and expects to learn about application for federal funds to complete a lower room by the end of the week. The original request for $70,000 has been upped to $123,000, he said.

The council asked that final plans be presented to it April 5.

Old Mill Park master plan was unanimously approved, but when Balmer asked for about $22,000 to immediately to start work, the council postponed this to April 5.

Landscape architect Eldon Beck presented slides showing proposed changes to the park including an amphitheater, some bridges, a terrace with historical marker near the old mill and building of a new restroom. Wornum congratulated "all parties and the parks and recreation commission."

The Mill Valley City Council also:

1. Took part in a ceremony of signing youth advisory committee articles of organization, all six members of the committee being present as well as new member Mrs. James Rutledge. "I think we're really going to get this youth program going this year," said Wornum.
2. Requested City Planning Director Harvey E. Bragdon to study an area bounded by Gardiner Street, Miller Grove, West Blithedale and Corte Madera avenues to see if it should be "frozen" while considering reducing from apartment zoning to lesser density.
3. Introduced a zoning ordinance amendment to permit signs on shopping centers that are set back from the street, and asked Bragdon to investigate sign exceptions along Highway 101.
4. Introduced an ordinance making changes in electrical, plumbing and building codes, all based on the uniform code except the building code which contains points "unique to Mill Valley," and set April 5 for public hearing.
5. Asked where teen groups have deposited money they have collected for the community and youth center.
6. Heard Wornum declare May "Senior Citizens Month."
7. Heard Wornum's request that park and recreation commission look into competition for a clay sculpture to replace the jet airplane formerly in Boyle Park.
8. Authorized spending $9,350 for golf course drainage improvements.
9. Approved four-hour parking only on Lovell Avenue between Olive Street and Corte Madera Avenue; making turn off areas on narrow roads "no parking," and banning parking on Buena Vista Avenue between Carmelita Avenue and Glen Drive.

McINNIS ARRIVES ON SCENE JUST IN TIME

The incoming mayor met the outgoing vice-mayor at the door of the San Rafael City Council chambers last night.

Councilmen Charles W. Aby acted as mayor from 8 to 9:45 p.m. in Mayor John F. McInnis' absence. Then Aby learned his wife had been in a minor accident in Sacramento and was unable to drive her car home due to a damaged radiator.

Just as Dr. Aby was telling the other three councilmen he had to leave, McInnis walked in the door. Aby handed him the gavel and left.

No one was hurt in Mrs. Aby's accident.

Trustees Reject Ross Pay Raise

Trustees of the Ross School District last night rejected the request for a 4 per cent increase in salary next fiscal year asked by the Ross School District Teachers Assn.

But trustees agreed to increase the maximum salary in the pay schedule from $10,050 to $10,705 and make slight increases in the annual step increases.

Supt. William W. Monahan said present step increases range from $260 to $330.

The board also said it would reconsider the possibility of a general percentage increase during budget studies in May or June.

Monahan said budget for teachers salaries this fiscal year is $198,167. With addition of a new teacher at about $6,800 and with the changes approved last night, the salary budget for next year will be about $216,000, he said.

Trustees adopted a school calendar for next year with 177 teaching days. It will begin Sept. 13 and run through June 16. Graduation will be on June 15.

The board approved a policy requiring medical examinations at district expense for all teachers entering the district.

High School Bus Service Is Hit

Complaints of Bolinas and Stinson Beach residents about Tamalpais High School were made known by letter and in person at last night's Tamalpais High School District board meeting.

Hugh Dougherty of Stinson Beach had two complaints about bus service from the coastal communities to the high school at Mill Valley.

First: the morning bus is often late—so late that sometimes students give up waiting and just cut school, he said.

Second: there is only one bus returning to Bolinas and Stinson Beach after school, and its departure time makes it impossible for students from the coast to participate in after-school activities unless they can provide their own transportation. Dougherty called this a "serious deprivation."

People are moving away from Bolinas and Stinson Beach when their children reach high school age because of the transportation problem, hes aid.

Dr. J. M. Stubblebine, board chairman, suggested a possible solution: providing a "school pass" which would permit the student to ride a regular Greyhound bus to return home. The bus for Bolinas-Stinson students is chartered from Greyhound.

The board instructed Supt. Chester G. Carlisle to look into this, and to find out how many coastal students might be interested in a later bus.

The second complaint was more sweeping. It was in a mimeographed letter signed by a group of Bolinas and Stinson Beach residents headed by Mrs. Jane Phillips, chairman of the Bolinas-Stinson Elementary School District board.

The letter, opposing unification of the 11 school districts making up Tamalpais High School District, declared, "There is no appreciation of our unique situation at the high school level."

It cited the transportation problem, said complaints from Bolinas and Stinson Beach have been ignored by high school district trustees, and expressed fear that if unification goes through, children in fourth, fifth and sixth grades may be hauled by bus over the mountain.

"We all want a unified West Marin district when the population warrants it," the letter said.

It was filed without comment.

Open-Meetings Bills Opposed In Fairfax

City Atty. Wallace S. Myers of Fairfax said last night the Ralph M. Brown Act was "not needed" and accused the Independent-Journal of libeling the Fairfax City Council.

"The Brown Act was born out of the McCarthy period and was not needed," Myers told the council during discussion of a resolution opposing two bills to amend the Brown Act.

The council voted its opposition to the two bills unanimously on the basis of a League of California Cities legislative bulletin.

One, Assembly Bill 946, would bring all committee or subcommittee meetings specifically under Brown Act open meeting provisions and would require that actions on charges against employees heard in executive session he recorded in the minutes, the bulletin said.

The other, Assembly Bill 432, would require all legislative bodies to allow television and radio coverage of all meetings and proceedings, the bulletin said.

Myers said the amendments showed "lack of consideration and lack of faith" in legislative bodies.

Elaborating on his libel charge, Myers today said he was referring to an editorial in which the newspaper accused the council of making a decision in secret.

The editorial appeared Jan. 8, saying the council met in closed session when it decided to draw up an ordinance creating the position of city administrator.

If the council did that, Myers said today, it was violating the Brown Act. But he claimed it did not do it.

Corte Madera Refuse Rates May Increase

Garbage collection rates for some residents in Corte Madera will go up more than expected if the town council agrees to plans of the Mill Valley Refuse Service.

The company has asked for a new franchise with rates increased from $1.50 a month to $2 on the flat and from $1.75 to $2.50 in hill areas.

But, Town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow told the town council last night, a new map has also been submitted, greatly enlarging the area where the higher hill charges would be levied.

Managing partner Lewis Figone of the garbage company said the critical factor in drawing the map was not the narrowness of streets or the slope of hills, but the distance and climb from the street to the garbage can.

Brandow said the new map might be acceptable if the difference in rates were not so great.

The council set a public hearing on the question of the new franchise and a new garbage collection ordinance for April 5.

Albert Bianchi, attorney for the company, noted the firm has offered to make a free pick-up once a month of any extra refuse the residents might want to get rid of, and to make trash pickups at town disposal boxes, an operation now costing the town about $2,000 a year.

Brandow reported that a meeting would be held soon with representatives of Mill Valley, Corte Madera and Larkspur on the question of the proposed Northridge Annexation to Mill Valley.

He said the present Corte Madera boundary should be changed so that the town would not include any houses fronting on Ridge Road. He argued that using the road as a boundary would create jurisdictional problems.

Asst. Town Engineer Arthur Morrison reported on a meeting in San Francisco of engineering officials on the question of a freeway route to West Marin, and said state highway engineers predicted construction of such a road is at least 10 years away, and possibly 20 years.

Brandow, noting no objections by San Rafael to having a freeway go through that city and out the Miracle Mile, predicted that would be the route chosen. He said Corte Madera should oppose any route further north.

The Corte Madera Town Council Also:

1. Saw new plans for remodeling the lower floor of the town hall, with Corte Madera Sanitary District offices sharing a common entrance with the engineering and public works departments, and set a special meeting with sanitary district board members at 7:30 p.m. March 24 at the town hall.
2. Heard Brandow advise early purchase of the old Cunningham Press property behind the town hall annex, after receiving notice rental of use of the land would be raised from $1 a month to $60 a month.
3. Assigned Mayor Edward W. Colthurst and Brandow to meet with Charles Rester, president of the town employees' association, to hear requests for salary raises for the 1966 fiscal year.
4. Received a draft of a new lease for the volunteer fire department, to go into effect when the new public safety building is completed.
5. Were notified all three motels in the town have complied with the town's new motel room use tax ordinance, and are ready to start collecting the tax.
6. Asked police scrutiny of the Embers Restaurant because a pool table has been reported installed. Brandow said charging for use of the table would constitute violation of zoning and business license ordinances.
7. Postponed consideration of proposed changes in the zoning ordinance on sign control to April 5.
8. Adopted an ordinance restricting parking on Redwood Avenue betwe 1 Corte Madera and Edison avenues.
9. Accepted a small path, Portola Way, into the town street maintenance system.
10. Purchased a drainage easement from Michael Terry for $938.50.
11. Held up action on a resolution approving inclusion of Corte Madera in the proposed Corte Madera creek flood control zone until receipt of notice of county action meeting town requirements.
12. Voted to send a copy of the town general plan to the county planning department to delineate Corte Madera's planning zone of influence, as requested by the county.
13. Adopted a resolution asking legislation to allow the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District to aid in a study of new crossings from Marin to San Francisco.

Councilman Norman R. Barnett was absent.

College Loan Plans Approved

Directors of the College of Marin Foundation last night approved plans for a mail and personal appeal for student loan and scholarship funds for this school year. The goal has been set at $19,000.

The directors heard a report from treasurer Robert J. Soderblom that the foundation has received $7,536 in donations and $466 in loan repayments since last June.

Dean of Students Irwin P. Diamond said the foundation has made 78 loans, totaling $4,037 on an emergency basis, and $949 in long-term loans.

The board set the annual meeting of the foundation for June 7 at the College of Marin gymnasium.

San Geronimo Group Votes Site Purchase

Members of the San Geronimo Valley Assn. last night approved purchase of four lots southeast of the Forest Knolls postoffice for a park and clubhouse.

The property was offered by Mrs. Maud S. Gardner at "a very reasonable price," according to association president Jean A. Bevans.

Bevans said a plan to purchase the land several years ago was turned down because Mrs. Gardner at that time wanted use restricted for a park only. There were no restrictions on this offer.

Bevans would not say what price the club agreed to pay.

The group agreed to sponsor a school candidates night at 8 p.m. April 14 at Lagunitas School.

In nomination of officers for the current year, Bevans was named to serve again as president. Sam Rouder was nominated vice president; Lois Wood, corresponding secretary; Stanley R. Frederick, recording secretary, and Mrs. Mary Furdas, treasurer.

Marie Ringer and Grace Zanolini were nominated directors at large.

Mrs. Gardner was nominated director from Woodacre, Theresa Bevans, director from Forest Knolls; Al Schivo, director from Lagunitas, and Mike Healy and Caroline Burt, director from San Geronimo. This latter post is the only contest in the nominations. Vote will be taken at the April 19 meeting.

Radio, Camera Stolen From Novato Home

Theft of a transistor radio and camera worth $425 total from the home of Leroy J. Hennessey Jr., 26 Atherton Avenue, Novato, was reported yesterday to sheriff's officers.

Hennessey told deputies he left the house locked yesterday, returned at 6 p.m. to find the door ajar and the items missing.

Grover C. Pitt, a night watchman at Tamalpais High School, told officers someone forced a door of the book store building Sunday and broke the safe handle, but nothing was taken.

Roberta S. Laemmera, 762 Marin Drive, Tamalpais Valley, reported a rear door of her home was pried during the weekend and a television set, a fur stole, silverware and an electric can opener were taken.

Shopping Center Road To Be Reconsidered

Corte Madera town councilmen, bombarded by appeals from about a dozen residents, last night decided to reconsider their approval of an exit from Park Madera Shopping Center through town park property.

The council on March 1 overruled the park and recreation commission, 4-1, in granting the exit at the west end of the shopping center parking lot.

Planning commissioner Harold B. Wagstaff last night complained that the action was technically a change in town's plan for development of the park. As such, he said, a public hearing would be required.

The council voted to return the matter to the planning commission, with a direction that it at once schedule hearings.

Wagstaff and former mayor Bruce Goecker led the attack, saying the council had, in effect, given the owner of the small shopping center a 280-foot easement across town property.

Mayor Edward W. Colthurst said his vote was based on the traffic hazard on Tamalpais Drive caused by shopping center's single entrance and exit.

Wagstaff said planning commission and council two years ago turned down access to the shopping center through the park. He said the developer agreed to the restriction then.

In addition, Goecker pointed out, opening a road on that side of the center would mean removal of 25 feet of screening trees.

Betty Pierce added that the traffic between the shopping center and the recreation center would be a hazard to school children going to Neil Cummins School.

Petition Backs Naming Lerch

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today received a petition with 75 signatures requesting reappointment of Alton Lerch of Novato to the Marin County Redevelopment Agency Commission.

Supervisors decided to take no action on an appointment until they receive recommendations from civic organizations.

Lerch offered his resignation in January when supervisors requested mass resignations from county commissions, but the board took no action on it. He again submitted his resignation two weeks ago. His term ends April 27.

Terra Linda Driver Injured In Crash

Frederick R. Bates, 39, of 32 Diego Drive, Terra Linda, suffered a broken nose and cuts and bruises last night when his car ran off Freitas Parkway and hit a utility pole.

California highway patrolmen reported Bates apparently fell asleep at the wheel. His car went off the road just west of Las Pavadas. He was in good condition today at Marin General Hospital.

Some Get Holiday For St. Patrick's

All Marin County Catholic elementary and high schools, except Dominican Convent lower and upper schools, will have a holiday tomorrow in celebra- of St. Patrick's Day.

Classes in public schools and at Dominican College in San Rafael will be held as usual.

Mill Valley Council Backs 'Island' Annexing Measure

Mill Valley city councilmen last night unanimously supported State Assembly Bill 682 which, if passed, would provide a means of annexing legally created islands of 100 acres or less and corridors such as the Alto corridor now sought by the city.

Either the city or county could initiate such annexation and county supervisors could approve it after hearing and protests.

"This could be used to get rid of the Alto corridor," said City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer.

The council also voted to support Assembly Bill 681, permitting a city council to initiate proceedings for inhabited annexations. This, if passed, would still require a hearing on protests and an election.

The two bills are among a series on which the League of California Cities recommended city action. On others, the Mill Valley council:

1. Favored a constitutional amendment to void the court ruling on reapportionment so states can elect two houses in any manner which the voters prefer. The vote on this was 4-1, councilman Albert E. White voting "No."
2. Opposed Assembly Bill 946, an amendment to the Ralph M. Brown Act to require that all committee or subcommittee meetings of a legislative body, whether or not composed of a quorum, shall be open to the public and announced 24 hours in advance.
3. Opposed Assembly Bill 432 which would require legislative bodies to permit radio and television coverage of all meetings.
4. Recommended approval of Assembly Bill 554 which would entitle a public employee or officer only to the difference between his military pay and his salary as public employee for the first 30 days he is on military leave.
5. Recommended support of senate constitutional amendment 17 for a telephone in-lieu tax which Balmer said would return to Mill Valley about $6,600.

Classroom Additions Job Is Let

Wright and Oretsky, Santa Rosa contractors, were given a $119,100 contract for a six-classroom addition to the Loma Verde School last night by San Jose School District trustees.

The firm was low of two bdiders.

The San Jose board also:

1. Referred a request for a leave of absence from Carla Terzich, a kindergarten teacher at Loma Verde School, to the new Novato Unified School District board.
2. Accepted the resignation of Donna Miller, fifth grade teacher at Loma Verde School.
3. Changed the date of "in-service day" from March 15 to June 17, the last day of school.
4. Received notice from W. Clifford Cornwell, San Rafael city clerk, that as San Jose School District residents are no longer qualified to vote in San Rafael High School District elections, they will not need polling places in the schools on April 12.
5. Heard a report from Robert Long, sixth grade teacher at Pacheco School, on the outdoor education program, and recommended that the new Novato Unified School District board consider continuing the program.

Woman Overcome By Auto Fumes

Mrs. Eleanor Risher of 47 Lyford Drive, Tiburon, was admitted for observation to Marin General Hospital yesterday after being overcome by carbon monoxide fumes coming from her cars faulty exhaust system as she was driving from Novato to Tiburon.

Hospital authorities reported she was in good condition today.

Mrs. Risher, dizzy from the fumes, drove to the main station of the Tiburon Fire Department on her way home and honked the horn for assistance. Firemen gave her oxygen and she was taken by ambulance to the hospital.

A SNAPPY MEETING

Dixie, San Rafael School Candidates Give Views

By WAT TAKESHITA

Ten school candidates, six for the Dixie Elementary School District board and four for the San Rafael Board of Education, made their debut last night at a snappy candidates' night at Silveira School in Marinwood.

Chairman Boyd Wells, moderator Stuart Spence and a timekeeper joined forces to keep the 10 speeches and rebuttals to an hour and one-half.

The meeting was sponsored by the parents clubs of Silveira, Lucas Valley and Miller Creek schools.

Candidates for three posts on the Dixie board appeared as follows:

MRS. DOROTHY C. BROWN, wife of Rulon E. Brown, commercial products representative, Frigidaire division, General Motors. She has been on the Dixie board for eight years, and is a member of the County Committee on School District Organization. She is the mother of two.

She believes her experience in the district and on the county level would be of benefit to the school board. She said she "cannot honestly support the unification proposal" until the various legal aspects are clarified.

WENDELL B. FREEMAN, 17 years with General Electric Co. in engineering-selling and management, graduate of University of California in electrical engineering.

Freeman said his engineering and managerial background would be an asset in providing guidance in school construction and maintenance, and in the board's personnel supervisory function and curriculum guidance.

Freeman is opposed to unification "because it would pose a threat to the educational system of the Dixie district."

THOMAS NEAL McNAMARA, an attorney, member of the Dixie School District finance committee for three years and chairman of a subcommittee to study the tax base.

McNamara said his experience in studying teachers' salaries, school finance, and unification can be put to use as the Dixie district "enters the most critical period—unification and actual growth."

"The school board has a duty to prepare for unification, said McNamara.

D. GWYNN THOMSON, M.D., father of five, for five years a member of a church committee involved in the purchase of land, building, hiring of teachers, and working within a tight budget.

Dr. Thomson said he favors giving more individual attention to each child, developing the full potential of both the gifted and the retarded child.

"A school board should be diverse," said Dr. Thomson. "We have a college professor, a housewife, a lawyer and a business executive. I feel that a doctor would be a valuable addition."

ROBERT J. GUTHRIE, investigator for the American Insurance Assn., believes more parents should be brought into direct participation in school affairs.

He called for "more utilization of advisory committees wherever feasible—good workable size committees." He believes lines of communication can be improved among parents, non-parents and schools.

Guthrie favors unification, mainly because it would provide continuity of education from kindergarten through high schools.

JOHN A. STARKWEATHER, associate professor of medical psychology, 10 years a member of the University of California faculty at its San Francisco Medical Center, associated with Langley Porter Clinic, participating in building programs including the new Langley Porter Institute, member of the Dixie board for four years.

He said continuity and experience in handling school growth are particularly needed. The Dixie district has "a number of very useful young programs," said Dr. Starkweather. He stressed the importance of "the fit between education children get in the elementary school and what they get at the high school level."

He said that providing this "fit" will be "a tough problem regardless of unification."

Candidates for the two posts on the San Rafael Board of Education appeared as follows:

LAWRENCE B. THOMAS, a professional arbitrator dealing in contract negotiations, father of three.

Up to now, Thomas said he was too busy traveling and making a living to participate in civic activities, "but now I can commit myself."

"I'm appalled by the lack of cooperation and coordination between grammar schools and high schools," he said. For example, Thomas declared that one system of mathematics is taught in grammar school and a completely different system in high school.

On the unification issue, "I would have to give it tremendous amount of thought and study."

KENNETH M. PROCTOR, insurance broker, a lifelong resident of the county, father of two.

Proctor called for "a good, sound education" with "the best teachers and the best schools." He sees a need for close liaison between elementary and high schools to give continuity in education.

WALTER R. CASTRO, JR., head of an auto leasing firm, active in various civic organizations. He is the father of three.

Castro said "cooperation between the school administration and the board of education can be greatly improved." He said that in many cases "the administration comes up with new ideas but they are lost on the board."

Castro called for closer relationship between the board and parents. "Apparently in some areas, parents are afraid to appear before the board and tell them of problems."

The board of education has the responsibility to study and analyze unification and present the facts to the people for their decision, said Castro.

LAWRENCE I. KRAMER JR., head of a management consultant firm, outgoing president of the Dixie board, served on board for past four years, father of four. He has a master's degree from Harvard University.

Kramer stressed the need for cooperative gestures; for example, simple steps like having ninth grade teachers meet with eighth grade teachers so that the high school teachers would be better equipped to cope with students coming up from the eighth grades.

"A school board member must always remember he is just one out of five," said Kramer. "He must learn to live with the ideas of the four others."

Unification Bill Killed In Assembly

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A proposal that would have loosened the state's strict law encouraging unification of school districts was defeated yesterday in the Assembly Education Committee.

The bill by Assemblyman Richard J. Donovan, R-Chula Vista, would have deleted the provision telling the State Board of Education to mainly use existing high school boundaries when examining proposed unification plans.

Cluster Plan Is Approved By Planners

Marin County planning commissioners yesterday approved a proposed zoning change to control average density in large lot areas.

The change provides for cluster development in residential zones where the minimum lot size is now 10,000 square feet. The density would be maintained by allowing houses to be built close together as long as other land is reserved for open space.

The average density control proposal is one section of a three-part zoning ordinance amendment that is being reviewed by the commission.

Commissioners postponed action until April 5 on a section which would create resort and commercial recreation districts.

The commission last month approved the first section of the amendment, creating residential districts of two, three, five and 10 acres for single-family homes.

Novato Youngsters Set Fires In House

Juveniles set five fires Saturday in an unfinished house at 13 Kaden Court, Novato, Paul Nelson of 135 Kaden Street reported to Novato police.

Nelson, owner of KDN Corp., told police that the parents of the juveniles had agreed to make restitution for the damage. The children lighted five piles of paper and wood on the floor of the house, but the fires failed to spread, police said.

Bob Campbell's Will Is Revealed In Filing

A will left by restaurant owner Wyman Franklin (Bob) Campbell was revealed with its filing late yesterday in Marin Superior Court.

In the form of a probate petition by his attorney and executor, Seibert L. Sefton of San Francisco, it came on the heels of a petition on behalf of an allegedly illegitimate son for $500 monthly allowance from the estate.

Both petitions are scheduled for hearing at 10 a.m. March 29 in Department 2 of Marin Superior Court.

The will, dated Jan. 10, 1947, leaves everything in a trust fund to Campbell's mother, Mrs. Ela Maude Campbell of Palo Alto. In event of her death, it provides for equal division of the estate among four sisters, Mrs. Emmet N. Britton of San Anselmo; Mrs. Charles K. Smith of Los Gatos; Mrs. Robert P. Cannon of Inverness and Mrs. A. McPhail of San Bernardino.

The document specifically excludes Campbell's ex-wife, Jean Stark Campbell, with the explanation, "We have been married only a short time and the marriage has not worked out to either's satisfaction."

A legitimate son, Frank W. Moulthrop of Lafayette, also known as Wyman Franklin Campbell Jr., also was not provided for in the will. Prior to its filing, he was appointed in Marin Superior Court as special administrator of the estate and stated in his petition for appointment that he was unaware of an existing will. He estimated the estate's worth at $70,000.

The alleged other son, Robert James Campbell, is only three years old. Petition for the allowance for him was made by his mother, Mary Frances Leonard, 38, of 206 Caledonia Street, Sausalito.

Their attorney, Allen Spivock of San Francisco, said California law prevents an illegitimate child from inheriting money from the father, but under a 1961 court ruling, Campbell has been paying $250 monthly support, plus $112.50 each month in voluntary additional aid.

Campbell, owner of Bob's Steak House in San Francisco and Bob's of Marin in Corte Madera, died March 5 of a heart attack aboard the Folly in San Rafael Yacht Harbor.

Colorado Glee Club Plans Marin Debut

Forty singers of the University of Denver Men's Glee Club will give a concert at 8 p.m. next Tuesday at the Mill Valley Methodist Church.

The singers are on their first tour of the West Coast since the club was founded in 1958. Under directioin of Gordon de Broder, assistant professor of music at the university, they will be overnight guests of various Marin families. Mrs. Shirley Kohlwes of Mill Valley is chairman of the alumni group to house the singers.

Callas Greeted

NEW YORK (AP) — Seventy-five screaming fans greeted soprano Maria Callas at Kennedy Airport on her return last night to New York for her first appearance at the Metropolitan Opera since 1958.

Six Months Given In Burglary Case

William Harvey Switzer, 21, was given six months in county jail yesterday on his guilty plea in Marin Superior Court to two counts of burglary.

He and Michael William Plunkett, 24, of 64 Barber Avenue, San Anselmo, burgled Jean's Bit O'Bohemia, 607 San Anselmo Avenue, and Gourmet Nutrition Shop, 609 San Anselmo Avenue, last Jan. 6.

Plunkett pleaded guilty and judgment is scheduled next Monday. Switzer resides at San Anselmo Hotel.

Planners Postpone TV Cable Decision

The Marin County Planning Commission yesterday postponed for one week decision on a request by Tele-Vue Systems to run an overhead cable route east of the county farm in Lucas Valley.

The firm previously was granted a permit to run the cable underground along the western edge of the county farm to its receiving station atop the rdige north of farm.

The commission received a letter from the Lucas Valley Homeowners Assn. objecting to the proposed change and claiming the overhead lines would be an eyesore.

Tele-vue claimed it would be impossible to run the cable underground over the route originally proposed because of rock formations.

Commissioners said they wanted to get a statement from Pacific Gas and Electric Co. about the proposed use of the poles before taking action.

Sausalito Marincello Protest Given To County Planners

The Marin County Planning Commission yesterday recieved Sausalito's protest against the proposed city of Marincello but took no action on it.

The city asked the commission to reject the application of Frouge Corp. to develop the proposed city of 25,000 west of Sausalito.

"Let's wait until we see the plan," said Chairman Niels Schultz Jr. His fellow commissioners agreed.

The commission also received a letter from Frouge charging that Sausalito's resolution was an attempt to prevent the commission from doing its duty.

Judge Rules Against Cohen

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A federal judge has ruled that former gambler Mickey Cohen was not under duress when he signed waivers for tax assessments.

The government has filed suit against Cohen to recover $374,476 in alleged unpaid income taxes.

The sum is the amount of unpaid income taxes for which Cohen served a 3½-year prison sentence for tax evasion, from 1952 to 1954.

Cohen appeared in court here yesterday. He used a wheelchair and a cane.

Cohen has been in federal prison since 1962 serving a 15-year sentence on a second conviction of income tax evasion.

Theft Charge Is Filed

An information charging burglary was filed yesterday in Marin Superior Court against Larry Edward Armijo, 27, San Francisco.

Armijo, arrested last Dec. 24 in the alleged Nov. 25 burgling of Rutherford's Pharmacy, 68 Throckmorton Avenue, Mill Valley, was bound over to the Superior Court on March 8 following preliminary hearing.

He has been in Marin County jail in lieu of $5,500 bail. Arraignment is scheduled for 10 a.m. Monday.

Subdivision Gains At Black Point

Marin County planning commissioners yesterday approved "in concept" a tentative map of a 188-acre subdivision in Black Point, but withheld final approval.

Commissioners expressed concern about the planned ponding area for the proposed 367-lot subdivision at Atherton and Olive avenues.

Dansk Inc. plans the subdivision on land at zero elevation, with a large ponding area for storm water control.

Commissioners wanted further information about tidal effect and silting.

The commission received a protest from the Black Point Improvement Club against a proposal for 6,000 square-foot lots abutting open areas around proposed lagoons. The club also asked for a careful study of access and drainage problems.

Plans for the subdivision include an 18-acre commercial area, a 20-acre school site and a three-acre school site.

Frank P. DeMello, an adjacent property owner, wrote that the county was not providing proper drainage in the area. He said the county is using his property for drainage.

The Marin County Planning Commission Also:

The Marin County Planning Commission also:

1. Set for April 5 public hearing on open area zoning of Bolinas Harbor District land in the Bolinas Lagoon area.

2. Set for April 5 and 19 public hearings on Kenney Brothers' master plan for development of a 710-acre area, south of Highway 37 and east of the present residential in Black Point.

3. Granted Frank Gelardi a permit to excavate and cut a bank along Shoreline Highway, opposite the Richfield Service Station at Almonte, for a shoreline service station, on condition that there be no excavation until a building permit is issued. Commissioner William F. Upton dissented.

4. Received notice that R. E. Miles withdrew his application to expand a marina north of Paradise Cay subdivision, which was opposed by the Paradise Property Owners Assn.

5. Granted Edmund Meyer a lot split at 26 Bellam Boulevard, south of San Rafael.

6. Denied Petersen and Greene a sign advertising Marinwood Country Estate subdivision at Las Gallinas Avenue and Lucas Valley Road, Marinwood, after receiving complaints from residents, and authorized investigation of another sign advertising the same subdivision which reportedly was erected without a permit.

7. Granted Atherton Land and Development Co. a permit to operate a resort including clubhouse, restaurant, locker room and health studio on a 7.7-acre portion of its 40-acre parcel at H Lane and Atherton Avenue, Novato area, and a lot split that will provide a 2.8-acre parcel for a residence.

8. Granted George Davi architectural supervision for a trap shooting clubhouse on the Jordan Smith Ranch property between the Northwestern Pacific Railroad right-of-way and San Antonio Creek, north of Novato.

9. Approved a retail carpet sales and cleaning business between Highway 101 and Merrydale Road, adjacent to Three-R School. Albert Storer plans to operate it as Marin Carpet Mart. The board of supervisors will hear the commission's recommendation at 1:30 p.m. March 23.

10. Approved the tentative map of Tennessee Highlands unit 1 proposed by Goheen Enterprises, a 52-lot, 77-acre development south of Tamalpais Valley School and Marin Ave. It will be considered by the board of supervisors March 30.

Time For U.S. Action In Selma Disturbance

If Viet Nam is our war and our business, and we can commit American lives and property for protection of freedom there, then brutality and murder within our own country is certainly our business and concern.

Incidents like those that erupted in Selma, Alabama, can no longer be localized. Through television and other media of mass communication, the hate and savagery in Selma are vividly portrayed from coast to coast.

We acknowledge that there are moderate elements in the South who are sympathetic with the plight of the Negro. But for the moment, the racists seem to have the upper hand.

Negro citizens are denied rights that we here take for granted. Those who insist on these rights are driven back with sticks, bullwhips and tear gas, and occasionally beaten and sometimes killed.

The latest victim of that violence and hate was the Rev. James J. Reeb, a Boston minister who left his wife and four children and the safety and comfort of his home to join the Freedom March in Selma.

For the love of his fellow man, Reverend Reeb paid with his life. Four men clubbed him to death.

The attackers were not law enforcement officers acting in the line of duty, or citizens acting in self defense. They were thugs with hate and venom, striking out against a man of peace engaged in a peaceful march.

Clergymen, lawyers and laymen from Marin have gone and are in the Deep South to help in registration drives and to feed and clothe the hungry.

They too are hooted, ridiculed and attacked. The lawlessness in Mississippi and Alabama is no longer just a problem of the South. It concerns us directly.

Charges against those who murdered three civil rights workers in Mississippi last year have been reduced to misdemeanors. The slayer of Medgar Evers remains free.

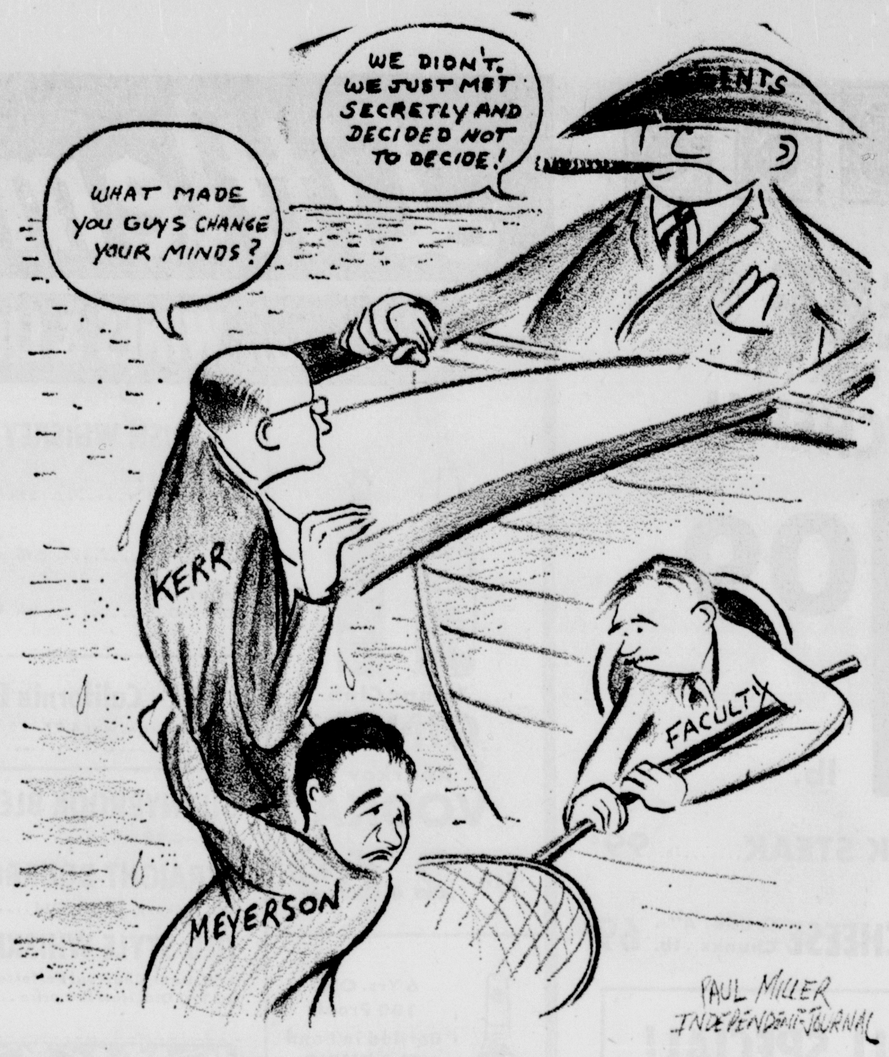
These excesses, which go unpunished, only serve to encourage the racists into more open violence and murder.

It is becoming apparent that the laws of Alabama cannot effectively protect those like Reverend Reeb who would stand up for the rights of their fellow men.

If freedom and justice in Viet Nam concerns us enough to commit American lives and supplies, certainly the leader of the free world can step in with enough force to restore law and order at home.

We believe the federal government should act, and with force if necessary, to back up its pledge of "freedom and justice for all."

If the government stands by while the lawless trample roughshod over the laws of God and nation, then it may be inviting anarchy and revolution.



JAMES MARLOW

Ghandi 'Salt March' Inspired King's Tactics In Alabama City

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dr. Martin Luther King's frustrated 50-mile march from Selma to Montgomery, Ala., would have been a version on a small scale of the famous salt march by his hero, Mohandas Gandhi.

THE PURPOSE of both was to dramatize a protest.

Gandhi, protesting heavy British taxation on the impoverished peasants of India in 1930, led a 241-mile march that took 21 days. He started out with 78 followers. When he reached the sea, thousands were with him.

The 50-mile march which King planned, but didn't lead, started out with 450 people from Selma. If the police hadn't broken it up, this journey on foot would have taken at least three days, probably more.

The marchers were supposed to go to the state Capitol, when they reached Montgomery, and there present Gov. George C. Wallace with a petition protesting denial of voting rights to Negroes.

Seven years ago in his book, "Stride Toward Freedom," King acknowledged a profound debt to the Indian leader for inspiration in how to wage his crusade for Negroes' civil rights. The inspiration was nonviolent resistance.

AND KING SAID Gandhi's salt march had a strong impact on him.

"I was particularly moved by the salt march to the sea. It was in the Gandhian emphasis on love and nonviolence that I discovered the method for social reform that I had been seeking."

He acutely realized how the unarmed Gandhi electrified the Indians.

King wrote: "Gandhi never had more than 100 persons absolutely committed to his philosophy. But with this small group of devoted followers he galvanized the whole of India and through a magnificent feat of nonviolence challenged the might of the British Empire and won freedom for his people."

India won its freedom from Britain in 1947. The next year Gandhi was assassinated. But the 1930 salt march had its birth in Gandhi's search for some kind of civil disobedience which would not explode into national violence.

HE PICKED the heavy British taxes on the Indians, particularly the salt tax. Salt was a British monoply. The British made it a crime to possess salt not bought from the government. Gandhi made his march.

When he reached the sea he broke the law by picking up salt left by the waves. Upon this signal, Indians all along their coast helped themselves to sea water to make salt. The British made mass arrests of Indian leaders, including Gandhi. But Gandhi had turned a world spotlight on the British treatment of his people.

It was 1930, and automobiles were fewer then, but why did Gandhi make the march on foot? The same question applies to King's march.

THE ANSWER on Gandhi, and it applies just as well to King, was given 11 years ago by Louis Fischer in his excellent biography of Gandhi: "'Had Gandhi gone by train or automobile to make salt, the effect would have been considerable. But to walk 241 miles in 21 days and rivet the attention of all India—that required imagination, dignity, and the sense of showmanship of a great artist."

King has a highly developed dramatic sense, too.

Show's Sponsors Tell Gratitude

Editor, Independent-Journal:

On behalf of the Mill Valley Music Scholarship Committee, I would like to thank you for the favorable publicity on the Edna Maguire Talent Show . . . The community response was most gratifying . . . We regret having had to turn people away when the auditorium was filled a half hour before curtain time.

The annual talent show given by the students of Edna Maguire School is a benefit to provide music scholarships to talented children now enrolled in the intrumental music program of the district. In the past three years, we have been able to provide eleven full scholarships and four partial scholarships to promising musicians. We are indeed grateful to the community for its continuing support.

Natural Gas Plea For Growing Valley

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Almost 800 residents of the greater San Geronimo Valley signed up last year with the PG&E for natural gas to be brought in from the nearest point in Fairfax, about four miles distant.

PG&E continues to stuff their envelopes, which carry the monthly bill to us all, with some real great ballyhoo, such as, We are partners with our fellow Californians in building a greater state, We are proud to be servants of the people, Our planning staffs are continually planning for the future.

So much for this line of baloney. With all their mighty resources, they are more interested in the profit angle, rather than the public interest. It seems they would rather wait until the valley is covered with homes, door to door; then, being absolutely sure of making a fat profit, leaving nothing to chance, they would then bring in natural gas. . . .

There is no excuse for greediness or passing the buck by the PG&E. It is the largest monopoly in the state. They have the equipment, the resources and the money to do the job, and, if they refuse to do it, I sincerely think it's high time the PUC was acquainted with the facts, and some pressure was brought to bear on the mighty PG&E to come down to earth and try to live up to its advertising of being true servants of the public.

Extermination Peril Causes Birth Boom

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Most of the world, including the United States, seems to be confronted with three serious problems. These are:

1. Overpopulation.
2. Swollen megalopoli (formerly cities).
3. The threat of nuclear warfare.

Now it is obvious that the second problem is caused largely by the first. It also seems apparent that the application of the third would solve the first two but most people would have something of an emotional block about accepting this solution.

But a combination of history and biology would suggest another, perhaps more satisfactory solution, It seems to be a fact that a specie which is threatened with extermination will instinctively increase its birth rate. It is also a historical fact that the human population of the world had been leveling off until about 1940, that is about the beginning of World War II. In the succeeding 25 years with its slaughter of about 50,000,000 people during the war and the danger of a nuclear holocaust ever since, the human birth rate has skyrocketed.

Perhaps if peace should ever seriously break out, this primordial instinct would subside to a more normal level. This would simultaneously deal with all three problems without using a nihilistic approach.

Easter Seals Help Speech Center Too

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Your congratulatory editorial to the Easter Seal Society is certainly in order but one of its most important services was not recognized, which is the Speech Center supported by the Easter Seal sales.

Of the greatest value to the general public is this clinic in San Rafael as deviation of normal speech patterns is the most common signal of danger in child development.

Without the Easter Seal Speech Center, pediatricians and teachers in early childhood education would be hard pressed to provide adequate care and guidance, since it is the best referral for competent evaluation as well as for therapy when indicated. It is not only a treatment center but a supportive community service.

I speak emphatically both from personal and professional experience.

Look At Judges Too, Supervisor Urged

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Re: Chairman Peter H. Behr of Marin County Board of Supervisors.

I read your article in the I-J this evening (Mar. 9), where you berated law enforcement officers for sitting on their hands while brutality replaces law in Alabama.

Did you look at the TV news at 11 p.m.—what the Governor had to say about Alabama? Now enclosed Mr. Supervisor Behr, read this about the fine Judge in Chicago! Maybe that is why law enforcement may be sitting on their hands as you stated.

Why don't you blast the Judges a little bit about some of the decisions that are handed down, or are you afraid?

Come on, let's be a little fair about it.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Space Age Materials Now Offer Employment In Civil Industry

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown may have hit on something highly important to the economy of California when he called upon industries created as a result of the demands for new materials and developments for spacecraft which could be adapted to general commercial usage.

WHILE IT YET is a little early to expect too many results, one company in Southern California has come up with an innovation in pipe smoking which it claims could revolutionize the pipe manufacturing industry of the nation.

This concern, Super-Temp Corp., a subsidiary of Ducommun, Inc., has taken a rocket nozzle and nose cone covering for space vehicles, called pyrolytic graphite, and adapted it as a bowl lining for smoking pipes. It claims the result is a space-age pipe, offering much less nicotine and tar per puff than present-day briars.

The new pipe is called "Pycar." It is not as yet on the general market, but negotiations are under way to get it there through already established pipe agencies, according to Jack L. Davies, president of the corporation.

THE PIPE WORKS like this, the company says. With pyrolytic graphite as the bowl lining, condensation of the burning tobacco is forced to the top of the bowl where it discharges hefty amounts of noxious nicotine and tar substances. It needs no breaking in, and is free from carbon build-up, thus ending cleaning chores. The bowl is actually the "cake" in the pipe.

The pipe wasn't developed by a scientist, but by an employee of the corporation who one day wondered why the pyrolytic graphite wouldn't help him in ending the annoyances of pipe smoking. With the help of engineers, he tried out forming the bowls and, in time, a new product developed.

WHILE THIS MAY all sound like booming a new product for a politically minded firm, which incidentally is more than a hundred years old, the important thing about the information is that new products, which will result in the hiring of California citizens and the maintenance of the economy, can be developed either by chance or design. The governor has called on the space-age boys to do it by design.

The first question asked is, "What is pyrolytic graphite"? It is a carbon substance derived from natural gas, which, when compressed in blocks or forms like nose cones, conducts great heat one way and repels the other way. The substance is not a new development. It was discovered by Thomas A. Edison many years ago, but because of the cost of production has never been adapted to anything on a major scale.

Production costs, as in most new products, have been reduced to the point where the product can be used in other fields. The company is hopeful of putting it to useful application in steel and aluminum. The more uses to which it can be put mean more jobs in California for workers who might be displaced because of cuts in defense production. Each product, of course, is only a drop in the bucket in the general economy, but if serious attention is given to developing new products for general usage, the drops fill the bucket eventually and some dent can be made in a sagging economy.

ONE LARGE glass concern makes coffeepots, cooking utensils and dishes out of a space-age material impervious to heat and cold. This Corningware is familiar to all housewives through its national promotion and use.

There appears to be no reason why man's ingenuity cannot work out side products for general use from almost all space-age materials.

Britain To Conduct Atom Tests In U.S.

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Britain is preparing to conduct a series of underground nuclear weapons tests at the Nevada proving grounds this summer and fall.

This is the first time such foreign tests will take place in the U. S.

Primary purpose of these unprecedented tests is to perfect warheads for the Polaris missiles that will arm Britain's nuclear-powered submarines. Four of these craft will be built under present plans.

EXISTING LAWS permit the U. S. to provide Britain with technical and other assistance for the construction of these submarines and production of the Polaris missile. But collaboration on nuclear weapons is barred. Special authority would have to be obtained from Congress—and that is deemed fraught with too many controversial complexities to seek.

As a consequence, Britain has to develop its own Polaris warheads, and the forthcoming tests are a vital part of this project.

Britain does not have the necessary facilities for such tests. So the U. S. is making available the extensively equipped Nevada proving grounds, where scores of underground tests have been conducted, the latest only several weeks ago.

U. S. AUTHORITIES will be in general charge of these tests. But they will be conducted by British scientists using own nuclear materials.

The Joint Congressional Atomic Committee has been informed that the agreement on holding these unusual Nevada tests was reached more than a year ago. But no announcement has ever been made, at the request of the Conservative government then in office.

Britain's Polaris will be comparable to this country's newest type of this solid-fuel submarine missile — with a range of more than 2,500 miles.

WASHINGTON and London are exploring another potentially far-reaching defense undertaking.

Under these backstage plans several or more naval and air bases would be established on British islands in the Indian Ocean to reinforce security measures of both countries in Communist-menaced South and Southeast Asia.

A principal use would be to serve as bases for Polaris submarines in this crucially strategic region. Also, such bases would provide staging areas for airlifting troops to Asia and Africa.

A GROUP OF U. S. naval officers, aboard a British ship, recently conducted a comprehensive survey of Indian Ocean islands. Their detailed report is now in preparation for submission to the White House.

Particularly under consideration is Diego Garcia Island in the Chagos Archipelago, about 1,000 miles southwest of Ceylon.

Other British islands also are being studied in the immense sweep of ocean bounded by the African coast, Arabian peninsula and the Indian subcontinent. Among them are the Aldabra Islands off the east coast of Africa, about 100 miles north of Madagascar.

BEHIND THIS still-tentative project is long-range strategy directly affecting vital interests of the U. S. and Britain, as follows:

1. Strong likelihood of the withdrawal of U. S. military forces from South Viet Nam, Libya and other countries in the next few years.

2. Urgent need for an alternative for Britain's crucial outpost at Aden, on the southwest tip of the Arabian peninsula. Both the U. S. and Britain deem retention of this military foothold as essential for maintaining "stability" in this oil-rich area.

The Spoilers Have Descended On Point Reyes' New Seashore

A WEEK AGO my wife and I made our first trip to Point Reyes since the Long Beach was opened up by the National Park Service. We had viewed this beach from the lighthouse, but now we wanted to get out on it.

Our first shock came as we approached the new road to the beach. Here was a woman with sack in her hand, gathering wild plants to fill that sack. We had thought that picking of wild plants would be forbidden in the park.

Then we went to the parking area. The park service has gone to no little expense in landscaping around the parking area with trees and ice plant. We were a little disgusted with some of our fellow beings who allowed their dogs to run through the planted areas, although there are plenty of signs requesting people to stay off.

WE WERE EVEN MORE disgusted to see some adults and children walk unconcernedly through these areas, right past the signs.

Our second shock came to see so many people packing off driftwood. At first glance, the beach seemed filled with driftwood that has accumulated through the years. But so many people were packing it off, that it will not last long at that rate. In fact, the area immediately below the blacktopped walkways is already being stripped of all the smaller pieces.

When I saw one man filling the trunk of his car with it, obviously for firewood, I was tempted to go up and tell him "to let my driftwood alone." Much of the charm of the beach lies in the driftwood, and at the present rate, it will not last this first year, if half the expected visitors go to that beach.

THIS IS A BEAUTIFUL time of year in Marin County. The yards are filled with spring flowers, making them things of beauty.

But that is not all that they are filled with. Many of them are filled with packs of neighborhood dogs roaming all over in the warm spring weather.

We confess to being a dog lover and owning one of our own. We will also admit that, our dog does not run the neighborhood, does not get into neighbors yard and flowers and does not run in a pack.

We do not blame the dogs for doing what comes naturally to them. They are animals many years later than man in adapting to civilization. It is natural for them to roam over large areas and to run in packs.

WE DO BLAME their owners who do not think enough either of the dogs or neighbors to keep them apart. We know where certain dogs live and we see them in other parts of the city miles from home, roaming and having fun. But how about the people who work so hard to keep up their yards?

Along the same line, we go out on a limb and advocate that all cats be licensed the same as dogs. And made to stay in their own yards. We say this with full knowledge that cat lovers will set up a howl louder than their pets.

Why shouldn't they also be licensed and subject to a leash law? With rabid mice being found in North Marin, the cats are just as exposed as the dogs.

The Independent - Journal's North Marin office has moved into larger quarters at the front of the Patio building in Novato. Moving is not always an easy task, but occassionally is necessary.

WE HAVE LONG felt that an occassional move is good for everybody because then one finds out how much superfluous junk one collects. And it brings to light other things too. When the front counter was moved in the Novato office, we found a three year old check for $2.76.

Great 'Melting Pot' Not Near —Perhaps Light Years Away

MY VIEWS HAVE rarely coincided with those of the majority, and I suspect this piece will not gain me any new friends.

I am often accused of deliberately donning dark glasses to shut out the sunlight and thus coloring my reports with too somber hues.

Some of those underprivileged nations, whom we are so busily engaged in bringing culture to, might even begin to wonder: If we can't keep our own lawn in better condition, how are we going to keep the devil grass off theirs? They may very well—though they didn't climb down from the trees until some 200,000 years after we did, some anthropologists believe—be seriously considering sending a Peace Corps to us.

PERHAPS WE OUGHT to concentrate on having a viable society first and let the Great Society wait till we're a little more ready for it. For at the moment we are so divided and filled with hatred that the word "united" in United States seems bitterly ironical. There was a time, true enough, when Zangwill's dream that we were the great "Melting Pot" seemed near realization, but today it seems many light years away.

Look at the headlines and the case seems open and shut: "Violence Feared in Second Selma March; White House Works for Compromise to Prevent Bloodshed; Gov. Brown Wires Wallace to Stop Using Troopers; Capital Feels Disgust, Shock Over Clubbings; Wilkins Calls for Use of Federal Troops."

BUT THERE ARE other stories, too: "GOP Hits Brown (the same Brown who wired Wallace) in War on Crime." It is charged that in Brown's 10-year tenure as attorney general and governor, the California crime rate has risen by 62 per cent.

And in Philadelphia, Pa.: "Terror on Subway; Six Men Stand by as Negroes Attack Girl." A naval reservist who tried to help the 16-year-old white girl was savagely beaten by the youthful assailants.

And in Chicago a colored judge has ruled that two men were "justified" in a broken bottle assault on a policeman who will be scarred for life. "Leighton said it is no crime to walk down the street with a broken beer bottle. 'A policeman takes the risk of whatever bodily harm he receives' when he draws a gun in an arrest which later proves to be unlawful."

Question: What does a Chicago cop do the next time he sees a man waving a broken beer bottle?

I do not suggest for a second that these outrages and a dozen other recent ones in Detroit, Brooklyn and other areas are typical of the Negro community in the North and are anything but the minute excrescence of any society. Nor, by the same token, do I believe the Southern white community of today is represented by the Klan and its morals.

BUT I WOULD SAY that part of the blame falls on those who have given their outright blessing or their tacit approval to "demonstrations" and thus downgraded the police on whom we depend to keep our streets safe.

A civil rights bill was enacted last year, and the Congress which passed it must be given a chance to see how it works and if it needs amendment—without outside interference or pressure. And when local authorities decide that a 50-mile parade may not take place because of danger to life and limb, no group of demonstrators, white or black, Minutemen or NAACP, should be permitted to override that decision by fiat.

Lawmen Defended Against Behr Chiding

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Refering to your issue of March 9, "Behr Blasts Law Officers On Alabama."

This statement certainly did berate Law Enforcement Officers, and it is the opinion of the undersigned that both Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales and Sheriff Mountanos disregard any statement made by Mr. Behr.

Both of these gentlemen should consider the source. Perhaps Mr. Behr could handle the situation in Alabama to the satisfaction of all concerned, and it may be in order to allow a leave of absence as chairman of the Board of Supervisors that he may supervise the correct way in Alabama to justify his statement that "every single Law Enforcement Officer in the Country are sitting on their hands."

It is quite evident that the majority of peace officers are not in accord with the actions of those in Alabama, but that does not justify criticism by any individual in downgrading peace officers who are not involved.

Why Month's Delay In Roadside Work?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Regarding the story in your paper of March 9, headed "Supervisors Order End To Eyesores." Their order is commendable and there should be no problem.

Then why in the name of common sense should Mr. Bruce state that "it would take a month to prepare a plan"? Think how many more beer cans and bottles will have been strewn about by then! And how many hours in idleness will have been passed by the jail inmates.

It is quite likely that some of these very inmates are responsible for part of the litter and it would be a very good object lesson for them to have to clean up the mess.

But why a month to prepare a plan? And now that I think of it, why hasn't such a plan long ago been in effect? It isn't exactly a new idea and should already be a part of the routine program of maintenance.

Nation Awakened By Race Violence

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Finally our nation was awakened out of its apathy regarding the American Negro. How sad that such brutality must take place before we realize true values. But at least we did finally pull our heads out of the sand. And for once, the nation is whole and one in the correct moral path regarding our dark-skinned brother. But will Gov. Wallace, the depraved man who has long sought national prominence, be charged or convicted of his brutality against the Negro? Will his henchmen, "Sheriff Clark and the State Troopers" who broke bones and seared skin, be charged or convicted? How dare this nation register shock over the events (a while back) in the Congo. Or over Nazi war criminals. The stench and stain of Gov. Wallace (and those like him) have stunk up our country and everything it stands for much too long. . . .

We have strayed so far from what our forefathers founded this country on that we best quickly get back on the path of human decency.

Today we join the communists in the abolishment of public prayer. Yet we've called it freedom to allow Ku Klux Klansmen, Nazi Clubs and Communist Headquarters. If this makes sense, then I'm crazy. Our country was first begun by people escaping tyranny from other nations. Also founded as a Christian nation, based on equality and freedom for all. To the Negro, that is a sad joke.

A while back, our late President, Mr. Kennedy, found it necessary to protect one Negro in Oxford, Mississippi. How come L. B. J. did not feel this way about Selma, and the plight of the Negroes there?

Marinites Requested To Heed Own Needs

Editor, Independent-Journal:

It is unfortunate that the "do-gooders" in Marin County, and California, see fit to chastise the deep South and stir up civil disobedience in that area, when their "talents" could well be put to use in this state and local area. It seems incongruous that our County Supervisors should "blast" the Alabama law officers, that our ministers should travel 2,000 miles to Selma to "put their bodies on the line," that our attorneys should spend their valuable (or costly) time for the ostensible purpose of taking depositions from "disenfranchised voters" in the state of Mississippi, and that many of our citizens are quick to offer blanket condemnation of the deep South, when their own state holds the dubious distinctions of "first in crime, first in divorce rate, first in alcohol consumption, first in dope addiction, largest college campus disorders, and a host of other ignominious honors."

Having lived in Mississippi for five years, and in California for a like period, I can only conclude that the behavior of these individuals is analogous to "people in glass houses throwing stones."

Consider this: Multiply the present non-white population of Marin by 50-fold, reduce the present white population by exactly 50 per cent, and you have the ethnic population makeup of the state of Mississippi. Would this still be "Marvelous Marin"? Perhaps this little exercise in mathematics will help to put the real problem of the deep South in proper perspective.

I believe there are sufficient problems in the affluent society of the state of California to which our "enlightened" citizens can well direct their efforts, without poking their noses in other peoples' affairs.

Deleted from my letter was that J. Edgar Hoover in his book, "Masters of Deceit," states communism to be a system of thought and action. Further deleted was: "Even Marxian interpretation states that communism is a final stage of socialism, that is, a society which will be stateless, classless, godless, where all property will be held in common and human activities will conform to the principle 'from each according to his abilities, to each according to his needs' — free association and voluntary work. This, of course, is a false appeal which communism uses as one of its potent weapons."

Sausalito Police Chief K. H. Huck is absolutely right in his declaration on March 12, that the police are being made the "goats" of the civil rights demonstrations. Goats have historically been used to lead other animals to slaughter. The "goats" are following the directions of their masters.

Chief Huck's idea of a good police officer is one who will "follow directions." Do not think to make your own decisions, just "follow directions."

If a police officer refuses to "follow directions," he will lose his small salary and his family will suffer. Therefore, a good police officer will "follow directions" and his superiors will "follow directions," whose superiors also "follow directions" and these directions come from the State, which is the People.

And the "goats" continue to follow the directions of their superiors.

One More Answer On School Merger

Editor, Independent-Journal:

It seems to me that your editorial today (March 6) accomplished an important purpose. It is the first responsible attempt I have seen to define the issues contained in the proposed San Rafael-Dixie School merger. At this time, it is most important that the issues be clearly defined as a basis on which each of us, as voters, must decide and eventually cast our vote.

You proposed the issues as follows: (1) How the merger would affect the tax rates, and (2) representation on the new school board under a unified district.

I should like to offer a further issue: How would this merger affect the quality of education offered to the children of these districts?

After all is said and done, the difference in cost, if any, would not importantly affect the lives of any of us adults. And the issue of representation would ultimately be resolved by democratic process.

Let us each, therefore, look upon the needs of the youngsters of our districts and ask whether this merger is good for them. To be good for them, it must accomplish something.

So far, I have seen no proposal which, if adopted, would improve the quality of education as a result of this merger.

Unification Cost Economies Denied

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The canard that school unification saves money continues to circulate.

Proponents of unification continue to stand up in the face of stark contrary fact and mouth this falsehood.

Unification does not save. It costs. The budget study for the proposed Dixie-San Rafael unification shows that an immediate $437,000 extra will be needed. More than 10 per cent over present non-unified operating costs. A few "savings" like this will put our entire school system in bankruptcy.

As for quality of education under unification — San Francisco is a unified district. How far down your street would you have to walk to find someone who moved to Marin County so their children could get a better education? Not far, indeed.

The original "blackboard jungle" was a unified district. So are all of its relatives.

Super-unified eastern cities, in fact, are now seeking some means of de - unification because education there has suffered so much and costs so much more.

But I suppose the proponents of state control of education don't really care if their unification wrecks our school system, as long as they own the wreckage.

Your editorial on behalf of the Easter Seals was very well written and very true. I am a volunteer office worker for the Easter Seal Society . . . I was present when other volunteers opened the first Easter Seal returns. They were 'appreciative' of every one-dollar contribution. I am sorry . . . but I am not appreciative. Even if 1,000 persons gave $1.00 each, it would hardly be enough to help the 17,500 persons in need of the help for the next 12 months. Many parents give their pre-teen children more than $1.00 for a Saturday matinee or a toy.

We are all "bugged" for money on every side by organizations . . . My appeal to your readers is not to just give $1.00 off the top to get rid of the solicitor, but to personally investigate how the different organizations spend the monies collected. If they do that, the Easter Seal Society won't have to beg for $1.00 contributions, once a year, to try to make the amount stretch over 12 months.

God has richly blessed our family with healthy bodies, so, as yet, we have no need for the personal benefits of the Easter Seals Campaign. But Christ in His teachings has said, "Whatsoever ye have done for the least of these My brethren, ye have done it unto Me."

If there are any repercussions to this letter, don't blame the Easter Seal Society . . . I haven't told anyone I even intended to write it.

Vultures, Poison Oak Worry Woman

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Two problems concern me . . . The lambs at Pt. Reyes.

. . . We also raise sheep. . . . As I watch the newly born lambs happily gambolling on the green, I can readily understand the sheer horror that would fill the eye to see a vulture snatch an innocent lamb from a helpless ewe—and like Mr. Martinelli, I too should rush to the rescue—the monetary feature playing no part.

Is there not some way these rare birds can be fed during the winter? . . .

Poison Oak.

. . . Some 20 years ago . . . I suffered out the consequences of picking these lovely colorful branches from the roadside.

Several old-time California families recommended Broemmel's Poison Oak prescription. I religiously take a bottle about every six months to keep myself immune. . . .

Once I awakened with my eyes practically closed with poison oak. The Cherubino Paladini family here in Novato supplied me with a solution used by the Indians. . . . By applying constant hot applications for 24 hours, I was able to get my eyes open. . . .

There are many vaccinations or prescription available. . . . The elimination of poison oak from Marin is an economical impossibility. . . . The solution for enjoying beautiful Marin is developing an immunity to these lovely colorful native shrubs.

Suspicion Of Humor —Sign Of Decadence

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Regarding Gretchen Reed's letter of March 13, and your answer, I do not consider sick jokes, unfounded attacks on personal integrity, constant misleading information and suppression of facts, and a vicious propaganda machine, to have "even a faint suspicion of humor."

The fact that we have so many smart alecks who spend their time and thought enjoying this perverted sense of humor, while our country and our freedoms are being frittered away, is a sign of decadence.

Gas Service Slowly On Way

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Re: Natural Gas in the San Geronimo Valley. . . . As you know, the Valley still does not have natural gas, but we are working hard at this time to get it.

Public Utilities Commissioner, Bill Bennett, had a meeting in his office between PG&E representatives, San Geronimo Valley civic leaders, his staff, and myself on Feb. 26.

A second meeting was held at the Lagunitas School between citizens of the Valley, PG&E representatives and the Public Utilities Commission staff on Tuesday, March 2.

A third meeting between the Public Utilities Commission staff and PG&E representatives is about to take place.

As you can see, machinery is turning to bring this matter to a head. My opinion is that PG&E are dragging their feet, but with a little plodding may well come through and provide this much needed service. . . .

Tam Unification Plan Advantages Outlined

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Marcia Hagen's questions (I-J, Feb. 27) on the April 20 unification measure were well put. As a member of the committee which made the proposal, I would like to attempt an answer. . . .

To her specific questions, briefly:

1. No state law requires unification. The law says an acceptable proposal must be put to the voters every two years until the district is unified. . . .

2. That unification benefits education is massively documented in the professional literature. . . . The present proposal for unification of the total Tamalpais High School District is the only one which does not break up the present high school organization, and it allows us to build a superior elementary education to flow into our already established high school.

3. Specific advantages to individual districts vary. The general community advantage is irrefutable. Concern for the whole community, rather than with narrow districts, is increasingly essential. Unification is an organizational change designed only to improve the efficiency and to enhance the education offering of the neighborhood school. I should like to emphasize that the size of the school district does not affect the size of the neighborhood school. The neighborhood school will, of necessity, always reflect the aspirations of the parents and the community which it serves. This unification enables us to use our excellent elementary personnel district-wide for the benefit of all children.

4. Unification cannot solve de facto segregation. This is a complex problem demanding total community resources. The proposed district offers the best fund of resources, both professional and financial, to let the schools do their share.

5. Taxes may not go down, a utopian hope. Unification can only give better education for the tax dollar. It can also shift some weight of the tax burden from the home owner to the larger state resources.

6. Reorganization will require an adjustment period. The state gives a financial bonus for unification. Unification, with strong community support, can effect tremendous economy by eliminating duplication. The bonus will then mean more money from the state to support superior education for all.

Finally, there is a Citizens for Unification Committee. Frank L. Miller of Greenbrae is its co-ordinating chairman.

Third Physician's Optical Office Now Open; Fourth Due In June

A new office for central Marin service has been opened by Physician's Optical Co. at 937 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield.

Carl Thompson will be in charge. He has been with the company about three years and is moving his home from San Rafael to Novato.

This is the third Physician's Optical office established in Marin by Raymond J. Dell'Osso. Two are in San Rafael, and a fourth will be opened in the Northgate Medical Center in June — if the building is ready by then.

Anderson Horsman

TWO APPOINTMENTS at Wells Fargo Bank have transferred Elmer E. Anderson, formerly manager of the Novato office, to managing the San Anselmo office, and moving up his former assistant Clifford I. Horsman to management in Novato.

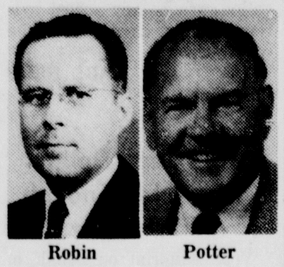
Both have served at the Novato office since its opening last year and both went to work for Wells Fargo in 1935. Anderson was previously assistant manager in Orinda before coming to Marin. Horsman served in San Francisco branches until his assignment in Novato.



Robin Potter

KENNETH E. ROBIN, division sales supervisor for Pacific Gas and Electric Co. in San Rafael has been named manager of the Napa office, succeeding Robert R. Hough who has gone to Stockton.

Robin has been with PG&E since 1945 as estimator, district sales representative and commercial-industrial representative. Before becoming division sales supervisor in 1962 he was area manager for Mill Valley-Sausalito. He is a lieutenant-colonel in the California National Guard and was recently elected president of the 49th Division chapter of the California National Guard Assn. Robin and his family will move their home from Mill Valley to Napa.

ORRIN (BOB) POTTER of Terra Linda has been appointed assistant service manager at De Long Chevrolet, San Rafael. He was previously service manager at Campbell-Bishop Chevrolet. The appointment is part of De Long's current expansion program. Last month the agency opened a new parts building.

AMERICAN HELICOPTERS CORP. at the Lodge in Novato had its first student to be flight-checked by the Federal Aviation Agency and awarded a commercial pilot's license last week.

No sooner had Harold L. French (who had come all the way from San Jose for instruction) received his ticket, than American Helicopters did a quick spin and hired him as a pilot.

The helicopter school of Robert L. (Pete) Peterson and Ronald E. Winkler, open not quite three months, seems to have gotten off according to flight plan. Present enrollment includes 11 ground school students and seven flying students, and inquiries have been received from many firms interested in having their employees trained.

The company has already acquired a second two-place helicopter, and a three-place "chopper" is now en route from Wisconsin.

WILLIAM SHIRLEY of Gilbert-Shirley Co., San Rafael, has announced the purchase of a new two-color Western Gear rotary press to be installed the latter part of May — the only one of its kind, he says, between San Francisco and Portland.

It cost $43,000, replaces four other presses, is 20 feet long, prints up to 14 by 17 stock, perforates horizontally and vertically, punches holes, trims and automatically counts sheets and has enough gadgets to send a pressman back to school to learn how to operate it.

Original purpose was said to be for commercial forms. But there's a possibility it will be devoted to something else. It seems Shirley's son Stevie, 13, is quite a cartoonist for his age and already has his first comic book completed in color and just waiting to get into production.

FATHER AND SON combination of Travis L. and Travis W. Key is moving Key Body and Fender Works from its long-time location on Bay Street, in San Rafael to Harbor and Front streets next month. They have purchased the old Koch Luggage building at that point. It will give more room for expanded service. The transaction was handled by Timothy R. O'Leary of Redwood Realtors.

BOOM INSURANCE

Auto Makers Hoping For Excise Tax Cut

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Auto men are plugging for tax relief as one of the best ways of assuring them of an unprecedented fourth straight year of booming sales.

This year has started out even better than they'd hoped. Keeping it that way is their problem. Two good years in a row used to be thought all but impossible. Now they've had three of them. But to bet on a fourth is asking a lot even from chronically optimistic car makers. So they are seeking a tax cut as just the insurance the industry may need.

If Congress goes along and drops the present federal 10 per cent excise tax on new cars, the car buyer would get what amounts to a price cut of $200 or more.

This should make the auto salesman's job a lot easier. Booming sales would let the auto companies pay increased labor costs without too much strain on the record profits they rolled up last year.

The auto companies argue that about the only unhappy one would be the tax collector. And booming auto sales might give the general economy enough of a boost to make up in larger tax collections on corporate and individual incomes whatever might be lost by ditching the excise tax.

Right now the sales and production figures are glowing indeed. It's the second half of the year — when the tax cut presumably would take effect — that the car makers are nervous about.

The unprecedented record of putting good years back to back goes like this:

In 1962 the industry sold 6.7 million American-made cars. This jumped to 7.3 million in 1963, and to 7.6 million 1964. The industry seemed ready last summer to beat the 1955 record of 7.9 million American-made cars. Then a rash of strikes closed plants and cut production. Booming December sales after the strikes ended weren't quite enough to topple the 1955 figure.

So far this year, production and sales have gone up, the December-type boom lasting beyond the expectations of many outside the industry.

So far in 1965 production has topped the like period of 1964 by 15 per cent. More heartening to the industry, this year's output is running 22 per cent ahead of the same period in record-setting 1955.

Johns-Mansville Reports Records

FORT WORTH, Texas —Sales of Johns-Manville Corp., which operates eight manufacturing and mining facilities in California, are expected to increase in 1965 by 5 per cent over 1964 and earnings are expected to show continued improvement, C. B. Burnett, president and chief executive officer, told stockholders at the company's annual meeting.

Company sales of $459 million in 1964 were $44 million higher than 1963, the previous record year. Earnings of $32.1 million compared with earnings of $27.7 million in 1963.

Capital expenditures for Johns-Manville in 1964 are expected to total $25 to $30 million, Burnett said.

Blue Cross Pays Out $65 Million In 1964

Late Steel Recovery Saves Loss On List

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed mixed today in active trading.

A late recovery among steels saved the list from a loss.

U.S. Steel and Jones & Laughlin gained about 1 each.

U.S. Smelting rose 3, Texaco 1 and Du Pont a fraction.

IBM fell more than 3 and U.S. Smelting advanced more than 4.

Airlines underwent a renewed spell of profit taking. Down more than a point were American Airlines, Northwest and Braniff.

Some of the savings-and-loan holding companies did well. Wesco Financial rose 1 and Financial Federation more than a point.

A generally higher tone prevailed on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds were mostly unchanged. U.S. government bonds continued higher.

G.M. Sales Going Well For March

DETROIT—Plymouth new car retail deliveries in the March 1-10 selling period totaled 14,681 for a daily rate of 1,631, an increase of 29 per cent in unit volume and 15 per cent in daily rate over the comparable selling period last year.

The Plymouth unit volume was the greatest for that period since 1957, P. N. Buckmaster, general manager, Chrysler-Plymouth division of Chrysler Motors Corp., reported today.

It was the 16th consecutive 10 day selling period in the 1965 model year in which sales surpassed those of the comparable selling period of the 1964 model year.

Chrysler sales in the March 1-10 selling period totaled 4,981 for a daily rate of 553 units, a 72 per cent increase in unit volume and a 53 per cent increase in daily rate over the same period last year.

The Chrysler unit volume was the greatest for that period on record. It was the 12th successive 10 day selling period in which Chrysler sales set period records.

Imperial sales in the March 1-10 selling period totaled 338 units.

Banks Restricted On Debt Listings

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Treasury Department has set a ceiling on the amount banks may deduct for bad debts in computing their taxes.

The figure was set at 2.4 per cent of a bank's outstanding loans, regardless of its record of loan defaults.

Some banks have been basing their deductions on bad debt losses dating back to the 1930s. Thus, they will have smaller deductions and larger tax bills.

Earnings Up 23 Per Cent

NEW YORK—Celanese Corp. of America today reported 1964 earnings of $54.9 million—a 23 per cent increase over those of 1963. Sales of $700.8 million were the highest in corporate history and 25 per cent ahead of 1963's comparable sales of $560.4 million.

Celanese earnings per common share were $4.25, based on the 11,828,972 common shares outstanding at the end of 1964, compared with $3.42 per share at the end of 1963.

Dividends on the common stock were increased during 1964 to an annual rate of $1.80 compared with $1.60 in 1963.

Marichal Joins Giants Cripple List

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Hank Sauer starred for Chicago as one of the batting greats of the National League yet the Cubs could find some Giant stickers in the Cactus League extra sharp because of their ex-slugger.

The National League's Most Valuable Player with the Cubs in 1952, Sauer finished his playing career with San Francisco and then became assistant to chief scout Tom Sheehan.

During spring training, big Hank becomes a coach with special emphasis on helping hitters. The Giants would be most happy if their hitters were especially effective against the Cubs.

Not because ex-manager Alvin Dark is now a coach with Chicago but because last year the Giants were 2-5 against the Cubs in the spring exhibitions and then lost four of their final five league games against Chicago when San Francisco challenged for the pennant.

The Giants met the Cubs for the first time in 1965 today and will meet them six more times before the games count in the standings.

Sauer's symposium of swat opened yesterday with special instruction to Jim Ray Hart, Tom Haller and Matty Alou. He hopes to instruct other hitters, at the rate of three per day, on other refinements of manipulating the bat.

The Giants had an open date yesterday and held a routine workout with an unhappy note as ace pitcher Juan Marichal pulled a hamstring muscle running in the outfield.

Trainer Frank Bowman said he didn't think the Marichal injury was serious. After applying ice for an hour, the trainer asserted, "He'll be slowed down for a couple of days."

Before the workout started at 10 a.m., Sauer had his students at work for a half hour.

Hart, one of the National League's top rookies of 1964, has been sweeping at the ball rather than whipping his bat this spring. Sauer pointed out the difference and commented, "He catches on fast."

Haller and Matty Alou were leaving their fists vulnerable to inside pitches and Sauer had some pointers on how to avoid hand injuries.

Austria, France Take Ski Honors

VAIL, Colo. (AP) — The first American international ski races won by Austria's men and France's women "were a milestone in United States skiing," U.S. Alpine Coach Bob Beattie said today.

Although the United States finished last yesterday in the three-day competition in downhill, slalom and giant slalom, Beattie said, "These team races are going to be very big in the future of American skiing."

He said he will meet here the next two days with Sepp Sulzberger, head coach of the Austrians, and Honore Bonnet, chief coach of the French, to plan future team competition "with nation against nation," Beattie said.

Austria's men, largely because of their sweep of the first four places in downhill, won their team crown with 107 points to 94 for France and 50 for the United States. The French women grabbed their championship with 62 points to 38 for Austria and 28 for the United States.

Each nation was represented by six men and four women racers.

Frenchmen Jean Claude Killy turned in the top individual performance by winning the men's slalom and giant slalom races. Marielle Goitschel, French Olympics champion, captured frist in slalom and was tied for first in yesterday's giant slalom by Jean Saubert of the United States.

Miss Saubert of McCall, Idaho, double winner in the 1964 Olympics, was the outstanding American skier. "This was a tremendous athletic achievement for Jean," Beattie said. "Her normal training routine was interrupted by teaching but she did a marvelous job here with little practice."

Beattie said, "The big value of this meet was the opportunity for our youngsters to compete against the European stars. They must have this experience if they are going to catch up with the Europeans. In time our young men and women will take their places right alongside the world's best in Alpine skiing."

An anti-climatic event today matched all the international competitors individually in the Vail Trophy slalom race.

The women were to race twice down a 62-gate course set by J.R. Beranger, a French coach. The men were to compete on two separate courses, one set by Austrian Coach Pepi Stiegler with 58 gates and the other with 62 gates. All three courses are 2,000 feet long with a vertical drop of 600 feet.

Marin Tars Baseballers In 6-4 Win

College of Marin baseballers downed the San Francisco State junior varsity yesterday, 6-4, in San Francisco. The triumph moved the Tars record to 2 wins and 3 losses.

Jim Schmidt went the first five innings on the mound for Marin and got the win. Dave Perlis hurled the next three and one-third innings before running into trouble. It was the bottom of the ninth, one out and bases loaded. In came Chuck Overmeyer who was superb, striking out the next two batters to save the win.

John Odetto hit a two-run homer in the first inning and also had a single. Fred Mack smacked three singles in five trips, and Ray Valconesi had a pinch hit single that knocked in two runs.

Marin will take on Vallejo Junior College Thursday in a road game beginning at 3 p.m.

Prep Cage Whiz To Go 'Shopping'

NEW YORK (AP) — Lew Alcindor, the 7-foot-1 New York schoolboy basketball whiz who is being sought by more than 50 colleges, will visit the campuses of five colleges soon, says his coach, Jack Donohue. Alcindor is a senior at Power Memorial.

"Lewie will visit UCLA, Michigan, Boston College, St. John's, N.Y., and New York University," said Donohue yesterday.

"That doesn't mean the field narrowed down to these five," said Donohue.

CRASH SENDS SPLINTERS FLYING

SPRING CAMP ROUNDUP

Surgery For Hank Aaron

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

For Hank Aaron, there's an operation. For Juan Marichal, there's irritation. But for Del Crandall, there's rejuvenation.

The Pittsburgh Pirates undoubtedly were the most elated of the three teams involved in that linescore yesterday. In fact, the other two teams — Milwaukee and San Francisco — were far from elated.

While the Braves learned that Aaron will have to undergo surgery on his left ankle and the Giants' Marichal suffered a hamstring muscle pull in his right leg, Crandall ignited a 14-run Pirate inning with a single and followed with two more in his five-inning workout.

Aaron planned to fly to Milwaukee today where he will have the operation tomorrow. After doctors remove an area of calcification in the tendon, the Braves' ace slugger will have to rest for two or three weeks before rejoining the team.

Aaron finished third in National League hitting last season with a .328 average despite missing the last several weeks because of the ankle injury. He clouted 24 homers and drove in 95 runs.

Marichal, who missed nearly a month last year because of a back ailment en route to a 21-8 record, was running in the outfield when he hurt his leg. Trainer Frank Bowman applied ice to it for an hour and said the injury did not appear to be serious.

"He'll be slowed for a couple of days, though," Bowman added.

The 35-year-old Crandall, acquired by the Pirates from the Giants for protection behind the plate, erupted in a rash of singles as Pittsburgh bombed the Chicago White Sox 17-4 for its third straight exhibition triumph.

The 15-year veteran, who batted only .201 and .231 the past two season, rapped the first of 12 Pirate hits in the seventh inning. He added another single later in the inning and belted a third in the two-run eighth.

The Pirates lead the National League while the New York Yankees top the American with four consecutive victories. They were scheduled to clash today, insuring one less unbeaten record in exhibition play.

The Yankees edged Minnesota 4-3 yesterday with Tom Tresh's two-run homer a key blow. Philadelphia finally scored a run, nipping the New York Mets 1-0 on Johnny Callison's run-scoring double.

Tommy Davis tripled across two runs in the Los Angeles Dodgers' 4-1 victory over Houston while Tony Conigliaro drove in five runs, three on a homer, leading Boston to a 9-4 triumph over the Los Angeles Angels.

Cincinnati stopped St. Louis 8-6 behind homers by Frank Robinson and Tony Perez, Milwaukee defeated Baltimore 4-2 on Mack Jones' two-run homer in the ninth inning and Kansas City nipped Detroit 5-4 as Ken Harrelson clouted a two-run homer in the eighth.

Cleveland scored two runs off Sterling Slaughter in the 11th for a 5-3 triumph over the Chicago Cubs, and homers by Bob Rodgers and Gino Cimoli led another Angels' squad to a 5-2 decision over Monterrey in Mexico.

So. Africa Segregates Its Sports

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Whites and non-whites no longer will be allowed to attend the same sporting events under a strict new policy in this already racially segregated country.

The new restrictions, issued yesterday by two cabinet ministers, apply to all public places of recreation.

Non Whites will be excluded from soccer games, boxing shows and other sports events in predominantly white areas, as defined by South African zoning laws, and whites will be prohibited from attending competition in non-white districts.

Attendance declined sharply at two major soccer games last weekend in Johannesburg when non-white fans were turned away. Non-whites accounted for an estimated one-fourth of the 2,000,000 spectators at White-only National League soccer games last season.

NCAA CAGE TOURNAMENT

UCLA Readies For Wichita Quint

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The blitzing, ball - hawking UCLA Bruins plan to take their run-and-shoot style with them to the NCAA basketball semi - finals this weekend in Portland, Ore.

Coach John Wooden says his team will employ the same blistering fast break and harassing full-court zone press that has won 26 of 28 games, including victories over Brigham Young University and University of San Francisco in quarter-final games last weekend at Provo, Utah.

The nationally second-ranked Bruins, defending the NCAA title after last year's 30-0 campaign, aren't too tall by some collegiate standards but hustle and sharpshooting make up for it—along with spring-legged forwards.

Blocking the Uclans' bid for another title are Friday's foe, Wichita, and top-ranked Michigan and Princeton.

Wooden said he hasn't seen enough of those three to judge their ability and wanted only to prime his team for the big games.

He conceded, however: "Any team that gets this far is capable of beating anyone."

The Bruin front line of All-America forward Keith Erickson, 6-5, center Doug McIntosh, 6-6, and forward Edgar Lacey, 6-6, has been out-rebounded this year, but not dominated, says Wooden.

"We're not big enough to control the boards," he says, "but good enough jumpers to prevent the other team from dominating them."

And, there's Gail Goodrich, averages 24.1 points a game and quarterbacks both the fast break and defense that has scored an average of 85.4 points while holding opponents to a 70.4 mean.

Goodrich used his left-handed jumper and driving layups to score 70 points in the two big wins over USF and BYU.

He suffered a cut chin that required three stitches in Saturday's battle with the Dons. However, it didn't bother him. His coach says, "Hell be good."

Erickson, second to Goodrich in the scoring department with a 13.6 average, netted 57 points in what was termed by Wooden "the best weekend of his career."

"Especially since Erickson couldn't have been in worse physical condition," added Wooden, referring to a touch of the flu, "it had been doubtful he would even play."

Wooden singles out Lacey, the team's top rebounder, and 6-3 Ken Washington as "great jumpers" who beat taller opponents to the ball.

Fred Goss, a 6-1 guard who snipes well from outside and fits well into the UCLA program, rounds out the starting five.

Washington and center Mike Lynn, 6-7, are the Bruins' No. 6 and 7 men.

Wooden says it's "hard to compare" this year's team with the 1963-64 undefeated club. He said they are different types—the last one better at passing, this one more accurate with outside shots.

Both teams drove opponents from the court with the pressing defense and quick - striking offense.

Warriors Shoot For The Record Tonight

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Wilt Chamberlain tries tonight to give his former San Francisco Warrior teammates undisputed possession of a National Basketball Association record.

The Warriors perch on the threshold of the NBA record for losses. Right now, they share the mark at 62 with the old Chicago Packers, now the Baltimore Bullets.

Chamberlain, traded to the Philadelphia 76ers two months ago, has kept them in the Eastern Division playoff race after injuries limited backcourt men Hal Greer and Larry Costello.

Going for the Warriors with three games remaining on the schedule is the position of their opponents—all are where they'll finish regular play no matter what happens. But then Philadelphia, St. Louis and Los Angeles will be the home teams, which could supply the incentive.

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

By JIM GILMARTIN

New I-J Columnist Jim Murray Approaches Sports With Humor

A couple of years ago on a trip to Southern California I became a full-fledged Murrayite. That is to say I became a fan of sports columnist Jim Murray of the L.A. Times.

His writings tickled me so that when I returned I secretly—when the boss wasn't looking—subscribed to a paper that carried his syndicated column. When the world looked gloomy, Murray was my sure-fire pick-me-up.

JIM MURRAY

Well, tomorrow I'm cancelling my secret subscription. Hereafter I'll take Murray home with me in my I-J because we have become one of the more than 50 newspapers on his ever-growing roster.

To prepare you for some of his wit — and it is consistently sharp — here are just a few samplings of his approach to the sometimes all-too-serious sports world:

WHEN THE Dodgers went into a horrible slump, Murray wrote: "What was happening to the Dodgers could only be described as a slump if you think of what happened to General Custer as a slump. I have seen happier people on the end of a rope than the Dodgers on the bus ride home. The players even cursed in whispers."

After the recent Ernie Terrell-Eddie Machen "world heavyweight championship fight" last week, Murray observed: "We now have as 'heavyweight champion' a neurasthetic praying mantis of a man so tall Eddie Machen should have fought him with searchlights." Terrell, the columnist further laughed, "should be named Ernest Matterhorn. Half the heavyweight division would get a nosebleed just getting there. The other half would need their own air force."

About a certain golfer's swing, Murray wrote, "It's so smooth you could put it on pancakes."

Archie Moore in his brocaded ring bathrobe and droopy trunks to Murray looked like "a guy who just got out of the hotel fire in time."

And when pint-sized Jerry Barber won the P.G.A. golf tournament a few years ago, Murray suggested that Barber was "the only guy who ever won that trophy who could take a bath in it."

He'll write about billiards or motorcycling, or anything that comes to his attention. His complete lack of chauvinism is welcome in sports reporting; his tremendous sense of humor will brighten your day.

Although he headquarters in Los Angeles at the Times, the complete sports world is Murray's beat. He picks his own assignments and travels regularly throughout the country. In the past six months he's travelled more than 25,000 miles. His suitcase has more stickers than Liz Taylor's shopping bag.

A native of Hartford, Conn., Murray says he will be remembered there as "one of the outstanding non-athletes of my time. I was a scatter-armed outfielder, a choke hitter (not the bat, my throat), a lip fighter and a lonesome end — lonesome because I drifted AWAY from the play. If there was one thing I hated worse than tackling anybody, it was being tackled by anybody."

Murray says he never wrote sports until he was well into his second childhood "which is just the right time for it." The first five years of his career he whiled away on police beats and rewrite in the company of assorted murderers, wife-beaters, divorcees, politicians and movie stars. "It was ideal training for sports," he says.

He spent 12 years on Time Magazine, helped to found Sports Illustrated and later moved west. "I hate to brag," he says, "but I notice where the Rams, Dodgers, Giants and smog all came to the West Coast after I did."

Murray joined the L.A. Times in 1961 and his column is syndicated to more than 50 newspapers. The I-J is the newest feather in his bonnet.

Murray doesn't claim to be an expert. In fact, he points fun at himself: "All I know about football is some expert told me years ago 'watch the guards' and I've been doing it ever since. I haven't seen a touchdown in years. Since a guard fell on a fumble at Notre Dame."

But, the new member to the I-J staff claims, "I am a qualified sports expert in one major regard: I am an opinionated jerk. You show the white feather in this business, like see two sides to a story, and you're through. I can promise you one thing. That'll never happen to me."

I'm sure you'll enjoy Murray. Follow him in the I-J; we plan to publish him about three times a week. Let me know how you enjoy him.

SUDDEN THOUGHT on this St. Patrick's Day eve: The list of by-lines around here is beginning to look like the Dublin phone directory — Gilmartin, Connolly, O'Chatoian and now Murray. One more mick and we'll organize a CYO basketball team. We'll have to get Father O'Meara to write heads.

CONSERVATION IN MARIN SCHOOLS

Dr. Virgil Hollis (left), Marin County Superintendent of Schools, will speak on the Marin Science and Conservation School at Friday's meeting of the Marin Rod and Gun Club at the clubhouse, Point San Quentin, at 8 p.m. Dr. Hollis, shown with MRGC president Milburn Zell, will explain how the money donated by the Marin Rod and Gun Club is used by the school system to teach youngsters respect for nature.

PARTNERS LAY CLAIM AS STURGEON CHAMPS

Mel Colombo of San Rafael and Jim Jacobsen of Novato have laid claim as the sturgeon champs of Marin County.

These two youngsters have learned the secrets of sturgeon angling, taking some 29 of these big fish since the middle of February. Sizes run from 40 to 60 pounds and from 40 inches to 6 feet. They hooked nine of the lunkers last Tuesday, releasing all but two.

Mel and Jim would like to share their knowledge with the angling fraternity. Here is how it's done:

They use light fiberglas rods, 20-pound test line, 2-ounce to 4-ounce sliding sinkers, strong leaders and the best 3-0 steelhead hooks they can find. Good star drag reels with capacity of at least 200 yards of line are recommended.

The boys prefer small baits—crabs, pile worms, shrimp and clams—with the crabs probably the best. The well-known shallow water shell banks on the west side of San Pablo Bay from the Sisters to Petaluma Creek are their favorite hunting grounds.

According to Mel, the sturgeon is a light tapper on the bait, not feeling much different than a flounder or bull head, but still recognizably different. Jim says that when you feel that hit, "sock it to 'em. When you do you can expect things to happen, and happen fast!"

Sturgeon are fast and strong on the line, and at times they'll jump like tarpon or bill fish. When you see 60 pounds of fighting fish come flying out of the water, man that's livin', said the pair.

How did the duo get started in its chase for the big ones? They say that bass fishing had been slow, that catching bass on bull heads, the only bait the bass would take for awhile, was no fun because the bait seemed to kill the bass or take all the fight out of them. So they decided to try their hand at sturgeon fishing. Now they're hooked on it.

Nearly all the fish they've taken have been so-called "white sturgeon," with only a few green sturgeon. They maintain that the story about green sturgeon being unfit to eat is an old wive's tale. According to the boys, there seemss to be no difference in the taste of the two varieties.

They do suggest, however, that it's a good idea to bleed out a sturgeon as soon as you catch it, and to clean it out as soon as practical to make the fish as delicious as possible.

When it comes to a fight, Colombo says that "alongside a sturgeon, a striped bass is a big sissy."

Richardson Bay School Captures Champs Tourney

Richardson Bay, led by the scoring of James Huff and Carl Curry, won the Marin County Junior High School Tournament of Champions Saturday at Bayside School in Sausalito.

Richardson Bay, representing the southern Marin area, beat Vallecito of the San Rafael area 62-44. It was the second straight tourney championship for the Richardson Bay cagers.

In semi-final action Friday, Richardson Bay edged Neil Cummins of the Redwood district, 49-46, and Vallecito knocked off West Marin, Rural Schools Sports League representative, 48-31.

Olympic Sailing Regatta On Bay Next Weekend

Sailing under Olympic conditions, boats will be competing in a regatta sponsored by the San Francisco Yacht Club and Northern California Olympic Classes Sailing Assn., Saturday and Sunday, March 20-21.

The regatta is open to 5.5 meter, Dragon, Star, Flying Dutchmen, International 505, Finn, and OK Dinghy yachts. A series of two races each day will be held on an Olympic Circle Course off Berkeley.

Muhlman Wins Golf Tourney

Carl Muhlman netted a 55 Sunday to win first place in the Mill Valley Men's Golf Club's St. Patrick's Sweepstakes Tournament.

Doc Bennett and Dick Simpson tied for runner-up honors at 58 each, followed by Chris Show, Hank Laverty and Chet Howlett at 61 each and Pete Tibbetts 62.

Design For Duck Stamps

A wash drawing showing three canvasback drakes over open water will be the design for the 1965-66 migratory bird hunting stamp.

Ron Jenkins of Carlisle, Pennsylvania, drew the winning design which he calls "Canvasbacks." There were 138 entries by 85 artists for this 16th federal "duck stamp" contest conducted annually by the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, Fish and Wildlife Service.

A new duck stamp is issued each year by the Post Office Department. The 1965-66 stamp will go on sale July 1, 1965, and expires June 30, 1966.

MR&GC NEWS

Club's Channel To Be Widened

Marty Howard, chairman of Marin Rod & Gun Club's small boat committee, announced today that the club small boat channel to the launching ramp will be dredged and widened as soon as possible.

Authorization for the work under the supervision of Leo Ciucci was passed by the board of directors at their March meeting. The sum of $1,200 was authorized for this important club project.

Due For Initiation

At the Marin Rod & Gun Club meeting to be held at the clubhouse next Friday evening five new members are scheduled for initiation.

The neophites are: Harvey M. Coverly, Richard A. Lop, Fred Anderson, A. L. Stephenson and Frank A. McKissick.

Resignation

Dr. Gail Adams, prominent nuclear physicist and past president of the Marin Rod & Gun Club, has written a letter of resignation from the club because he and his family are moving East.

Both the board of directors and the membership as a whole have expressed regret and reluctance to accept the withdrawal of the popular scientist. This presents a problem as there is no provision in the Rod & Gun Club by-laws and constitution for honorary memberships or for holding memberships in suspense.

Advisory Council

Upon recommendation of Marin Rod & Gun Club president Mel Zell, past presidents Steve Lato, A. M. Dewey and Len Tibbot were appointed to the club's advisory council.

Auxiliary Meeting

Mrs. Calvin Terwilliger of Mill Valley, who sponsors canoe trips, horseback riding and bicycling in Marin County, will be the guest speaker at the March 23 meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary, Marin Rod and Gun Club, at the clubhouse, Point San Quentin.

The clamming party on Feb. 12 at Shell Beach was highly successful, according to Ruth Smith, chairman, who announced the next fishing days will be tomorrow at Fort Baker, starting at 9:30 a.m. and March 30 at the Black Point Launching Ramp on Petaluma River.

BOWMEN TOURNEY APRIL 4

Northwoods Bowmen's Club, Marin's energetic archery group, is preparing to host the eighth annual Marin Open Handicap archery tournament.

This affair is famous and well-attended by California's greatest archers including some past state and national champions. The tournament is scheduled for April 4 at the club grounds just north of San Rafael, about two miles east of Highway 101 on San Pedro Road in Santa Venetia.

The shoot is open to the public as spectators or participants.

We Make Four Congratulations For Some Outstanding Catches

STEVENS

To begin this week's fishing report, let's make obeisance to four outstanding catches. No. 1—the remarkable boating of 25 limits of ling cod by Skipper Ray Batho, and the anglers aboard the Kikahu (the name means in Japanese, Brave Spirit, I am told). This report made by Sid McMullin of Caruso's Sausalito spot. No mention was made of any deep sea fish other than lings. Fish ran to 25 pounds, and were taken on cut bait.

No. 2—The landing of four catfish to 6 pounds by Howard Tait in the Sutter Bypass, and to Earl Gillette for two cats, one of five pounds and one of 10 pounds at Colusa on Saturday. The Gillette scene of action was Colusa, reported by Joe Wun, Sportsmen's Center, Castro Valley, Mel Silva of Hayward Fisheries reported the Tait incident.

No. 3—To the Salmon Queen out of Caruso's Sausalito harbor; for 14 limits of salmon taken by this boat Saturday off Point Reyes, reported by Sid McMullin.

No. 4—To Mel Toponce and friend Don Jones, who each did epic battles with 5-pound steelhead trout, while fly-rod fishing in Lake Berryessa at the mouth of Putah Creek. Mel Toponce, who made the report, said each of the steelies took 30 thrill-packed minutes to bring the fish to the net.

I MIGHT ADD that an unnamed angler using pile worms in the South Shore area landed a 22-pound striper. This reported by the Fruitvale Bait shop. Also reported from here was the news that oodles of jack smelt are eager to be fed in the Alameda Estuary.

From Caruso's in Sausalito came news that most of the salmon fleet on Saturday and Sunday was concentrated in the waters between Doble Point and the Light Ship. Seems that lots of salmon were caught—an average of at least 2 to the rod.

Grace Quan of China Camp reported fishing on Saturday good to excellent, with most boats docking with limits or near limits. Grace also mentioned that three nice sturgeon were taken, one of which she caught herself, about 45 inches long. She estimated that the bass caught on Saturday and Sunday weighed from 10 pounds up.

FROM JOE'S Launching at Santa Venetia, Joe Nerviani lamented the adverse weather and water conditions that held the catch low. "Only eight fish taken on Saturday, but, while still a bit murky, the bay water has cleared and calmed on Sunday. Should be a lot of fish registered by nightfall."

A notice that the club, Fishing Fools, will meet at 7:30 p.m. tonight. All regular and prospective members should attend. And that's 30 for now.

Peacock Gap Golf Winners

Bill Cardinal won Sunday's sweepstakes golf tourney at Peacock Gap Country Club when he stroked an 81-13—68. Next were Creg Weatherford, 85-12—73; Al Ennis, 92-18—74; Joe Dickover, 88-14—74, and John Arndt, 93-19—74.

Mixed best ball twosome winners: Mr. and Mrs. Al Ennis, 65; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dickover, 65; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cardinal, 65; Mr. and Mrs. Earl O'Grady, 66.

Miss Hard Hosts Pros At Lunch

Darlene Hard, tennis pro at the Peacock Gap Beach and Tennis Club, hosted a luncheon at the clubhouse last Friday honoring fellow tennis pros in Marin County.

Among those at the luncheon were Hal Wagner of the San Rafael Racquet Club, Paul Wilkins of the Belvedere Tennis Club, Bill Kennedy of the Mill Valley Tennis Club, Herb Clark from Harbor Point Beach Club, and Muriel Kifer of Tiburon Peninsula Club.

Wounded Giants Strewn All Over Phoenix Spring Training Camp

CONNOLLY

PHOENIX, Ariz. — "Quick Watson, the needle," seems to be the theme song of 1965 for the stout hearted men of Horace Stoneham. The maimed, the wounded, the cripples and those on the mend, are strewn all over the bar, lounge and hotel rooms of the Adams. Although the exhibition season is under way, any moment now we expect "Digger" O'Dell, the friendly undertaker, to drop in and start readying up some of the more critically injured San Francisco players.

The core of the Giants ball club, is not 100 per cent fit. All are ailing from one thing or another. For instance:

WILLIE McCOVEY might as well have a peg leg for all the good he is to the club. He ran okeh last Sunday but he limped right off the diamond after he high tailed it to third base after a single and error. His new shoes are here and his old bruise on his heel is getting a little more air.

Orlando Cepeda, ranked as one of the most expensive first basemen in the league, still suffers from a phoney knee that might get better or worse. If out-running Herman Franks, the pudgy manager, is an example of how fleet of foot Orlando is, they better look out. The Baby Bull can't even kneel down to say his prayer but they say, and the doctors agree, he'll be all right.

JACK SANFORD, pitching hero of the Giants staff in 1962 when they swept to a World Series, took a workout against the Cleveland Indians last Saturday at Tucson and said his flipper is okeh but up to that time he couldn't comb his hair, not to mention other things he couldn't do with his famous right arm.

Jesus Alou, eager and willing, still is handicapped by a troublesome achilles tendon. For an outfielder he might need a wheel chair soon to keep up with the speed of the opposition.

HAL LANIER, last year's sensational rookie second sacker and Jim Hart, likewise a budding young third sacker, have done all right in the games played to date but both are suffering from the "heebie-jeebies" because they fear the sophomore jinx, which usually happns to youngsters in their second year of pro big league ball.

Jose Pagan, brilliant shortstop in 1962 and a flop last season, is off to a good start. The blind staggers he suffered in 1964 seems to have left him. They still maintain a strict vigilance on Jose so he won't mistake a window for a door and fall out of camp.

From a purely friendly attitude the Giants camp as of now, could just as well be located at Yountville, up there in Napa County, where the old soldiers romp in the sunshine and never have to worry who is going to pay for the chops.

IN ONE WAY it is a nice break for the recruits in camp. They'll at least get a chance to appear in a few exhibitions before the regulars are ready. One of 'em, pitcher Bill Hands, did and is right now packing for Casa Grande, where Tacoma trains.

This appears to be one of the strangest spring training camps of all time. Forty players are here and all along the Giant brass knows it can only keep 25. It wouldn't surprise me if two or three of the long shot kids in camp make good. If the old times are hurting every time they run into a clothes closet, it would seem a good time to give the kids a real chance.

Every place you go you see a few Giant players huddled in one of those conferences whispering about stories Billy O'Dell and Jose Cardinal, last year's Giants, are saying in their new spring camps.

HERMAN FRANKS, new manager of the club, who was at Alvin Dark's elbow all last season, appears amazed and pretends not to know what pitcher Billy O'Dell means when he says the team, as a unit, didn't give out.

"I never wore ear muffs last year, so if there was a lot of grumbling or dissatisfaction, I'd surely have known about it," Franks says.

So there should be a lot of fun around here. Just as soon as I get unpacked and find Manager Franks alone, I'll tell you what he thinks of the coming season.

A PRACTICE ARGUMENT

Ballplayers even have to get in some practice arguments during the exhibition baseball season. Above, Mike de la Hoz, Milwaukee Braves infielder, says a few choice words to plate umpire Bob Engle after the ump called him out in a close play at home. Milwaukee still won the game against the Baltimore Orioles, 4-2, at West Palm Beach, Fla. (AP Wirephoto)

Galento, co-manager of a New York supper club, said he thinks Orange needs a "shot in the arm."

Spahn Vows He Won't Be A Mere Hanger-On

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI)—If Warren Spahn finds he can't do it anymore, they won't have to tell him; he'll tell them.

Spahn, who'll be 44 next month and is listed as a pitcher-coach with the New York Mets, holds more records by far than any other pitcher in the game today.

He's not looking to trade on them, however, and if he discovers he can't win for the Mets, he has no intention of becoming a mere hanger-on.

A 23-game winner for Milwaukee two years ago, Spahn was able to win only six games for the Braves last season in what was the poorest showing his 25-year professional career.

"I'm not happy about last year's record, but I'm not ashamed of it," he said, after throwing 20 minutes on the sidelines, doing 15 minutes of calisthenics in the outfield and taking another 20 minutes batting practice against mechanical Iron Mike.

"My timing was all fouled up last year. Then when I got it straightened out, I didn't get a chance to pitch.

"If I thought things would follow the same pattern as last year, I wouldn't even bother walking out there," he said, pointing to the mound with his glove.

"It's no fun getting your brains beat out. I'm a realist. I know it'll be a tougher job winning with this club than it was with Milwaukee. Honestly, though, I don't feel any different than I did two years ago when I won 23."

Supervisors Plant Seeds For Civic Center Bond Issue

Four Marin County supervisors yesterday planted the seeds of a campaign to persuade voters to approve a $7,750,000 bond issue June 8 to build the hall of justice at Marin Civic Center.

They agreed to name Fred F. Enemark of San Rafael and Mrs. Caroline Livermore of Ross as campaign co-chairmen.

Mrs. Livermore was chosen at an earlier meeting; Enemark was expected to accept the post informally as he lunched with the supervisors today.

The two will head a citizen group to work for passage of the bond issue. Supervisors said they also would appoint at least one other citizen to a key post in the drive.

If there is enough money, they agreed that it would be highly desirable to hire a professional public relations consultant.

The question of where this money will come from appeared to be the key one facing those who will run the drive. Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhoffen predicted it would take $20,000 for the citizen's committee to do this job.

The supervisors decided to look carefully for the right man to hold what could be the committee's key post: that of finance chairman.

Supervisor Thomas T. Storer said the group should have about 35 to 40 members. Supervisor Peter H. Behr suggested one of its tasks should be to elicit "a crescendo of resolutions" from the county's various city councils in favor of the bond issue.

Details of the campaign, the four supervisors conceded, should be up to those who will head the committee.

They found it hard to resist coming up with specific suggestions, however. Among their ideas were these, voiced by Behr:

The group should prepare a fact sheet, "in real depth," with a detailed history of the Civic Center ("including the good with the bad") and showing how the bond issue will affect local taxes in comparison with "pay as you go" financing.

Support should be sought from diverse groups in each community, including property owners, labor, professional groups and the backers of losing candidates in the recent supervisorial election.

The supervisors themselves should form the core of a speakers bureau, with 30 or more persons available to address any county group with well-informed remarks on the bond issue.

More Marin residents should be encouraged to tour the existing portion of the Civic Center, designed by Frank Lloyd Wright.

Behr said he suspected that no more than 10 per cent of those in the county had been in the building. He urged a "See Your Civic Center" campaign, with a skeleton staff in each office on Sundays to answer questions.

"That is all right," retorted Kettenhoffen, "but don't think you are going to win this election by esthetics. It is going to be won with dollars and cents."

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker was absent.

Pennies Stolen In Two Thefts

Two hundred pennies were reported stolen in two burglaries at the same business during the week end, Mill Valley police said today.

Mrs. Edna Buck reported yesterday that she found $1.50 in pennies missing from the cash register at her store at 392 Miller Avenue Saturday, the thief apparently having entered through an unlocked window. Yesterday she found the window broken and 50 more pennies missing.

North State Recreation Area Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Forest Service and two representatives of Shasta County urged today the establishment of the three - unit Whiskeytown-Shasta-Trinity National Recreation Area in northern California.

Edward P. Cliff, chief of the Forest Service, told the House National Parks subcommittee the three areas surrounding federal reclamation reservoirs offer "numerous and diverse opportunities for healthful outdoor recreation and for general public enjoyment."

Arnold S. Rummelsburg, Shasta County water resources director, and Paul C. Bodenhamer, editor of the Redding Record-Searchlight, said the county had considered local development around Whiskeytown Lake, but is convinced by the flood of visitors already coming to the area that it is not in financial position to keep up with the demand for facilities.

Rummelsburg said Shasta County understands the need for zoning regulations on the private lands in the recreation area boundaries and is willing to cooperate.

He said the county also understands that most of the private land acquisition by the government will be in the county, but feels that despite the loss of tax revenue the effect of the national recreation area will benefit the entire area.

Cliff said it is entirely feasible for the Forest Service to administer the Trinity and Shasta units and the National Park Service the Whiskeytown unit.

Rep. Harold T. Johnson, D-Calif., sponsor of the authorization bill, estimated that the project would cost $25 million to $30 million, primarily for land acquisitions in the Whiskeytown unit.

Bodenhamer said Shasta County voters made the right decision in voting 2 to 1 in 1962 for federal development over local development of Whiskeytown Lake.

The National Park Service has developed facilities 10 times as rapidly as Shasta County could have—and even then it cannot keep up with the demand for camping spots, picnic areas and other facilities," he said.

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

Club Reception A Gala Event

By MOLLY MARIN

Saturday night's gala reception and dinner-dance in Mill Valley honoring the Outdoor Art Club's recently wed president and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent L. White, proved one of the most unusual and successful of recent events at the club.

MORE THAN 100 members and their escorts turned out to toast the popular president and her husband. Highlight of the evening was the moment when they cut a four-tierred wedding cake with a gleaming Samurai sword. Special kudos went to over-all chairman Mrs. A. Leonard Bjorklund Jr., staffing chairman Mrs. Joseph Brewster and dinner chairman Mrs. Mary Keene for the planning and managing of this extra event on the calendar. Rave comments were heard everywhere for the decor done by Mrs. John C. Burnham. An example of her much admired ingenuity in finding ways to carry out themes was the use of her own wedding gown to dress the mannequin bride that was the focal point of decor behind the head table.

SORORITY PLEDGES—Bonnie Bedford of San Rafael, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bedford of San Rafael, recently pledged Delta Gamma sorority at Willamette University, and Demaris Hammond of Tiburon has pledged Alpha Chi Omega at Willamette. Demaris is the daughter of the R. W. Hammonds of Tiburon.

MR. AND MRS. Thomas Nock of Hill Haven, Tiburon, just returned from spending one month visiting Mexico by auto. They traveled the western route visiting Guaymas and Mazatlan, then drove to Mexico City and from there traveled south to Oaxaca, they traveled to Lake Cotenaco, which is on the Gulf and below Vera Cruz, and then left there for Puebla. They then traveled west of Mexico City to visit Lake Patzquaro, an Indian fishing village. They returned home via the Monterrey and Laredo route.

THE 80TH BIRTHDAYS of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Oglesby of Greenbrae will be celebrated at a champagne buffet with 200 guests at the San Rafael Improvement Club on March 27. The octogenarians' birth dates are within six weeks of each other so it was decided the celebration should be held on a single day. Their children honoring the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kilborn of Sonoma, Mrs. Walter Kunz and Jack Oglesby Jr. of Sacramento, Walter Kilborn of San Rafael and Andrew Ferrier of Kentfield.

Mary Oglesby was born in San Francisco and has lived in Marin for 35 years. John was city engineer for Sausalito, Larkspur and San Anselmo and is now town engineer for Ross. The Oglesbys celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary last year.

RESIDING in their new home at Laguna Lake Village, San Luis Obispo are Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Brown and son, Harry, formerly of San Anselmo.

FLYING TO Santa Barbara on Friday to see her daughter, Teri, in the University of California's annual spring revue, "Road Runner" was Mrs. Bari Frohlic of San Rafael. Mrs. Frohlic, director of the Marin Cotillion, choreographed a Charleston routine for her daughter to use when the auditions were held. The routine was such a hit that the director starred Teri in a solo for the show.

MR. AND MRS. Edwin G. Leong of Corte Madera were visited by orchestra leader Arthur Lyman last week. Eddie, who is part owner of Confucius Restaurant in Greenbrae, led a group of musicians in Hawaii some years back which included Mr. Lyman.

MRS. CARMEL PENSABENE of Fairfax was honored at an 81st birthday party at Rancho Nicasio on Sunday by her three children, Mr. and Mrs. D. V. Penesabene of San Carlos, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ticoulet of Corte Madera and Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Barbera of San Anselmo. Twenty-four attended. Four grandchildren and 10 great grandchildren were present. Pink camellias and a large birthday cake decorated the table.

ANOTHER LUNCHEON was given in Tiburon by Mrs. Wesley Webster of Lyford's Cove, with Mesdames Charles Mohler, Eugene Chase, Donald Springstead and George Berticivich, all of Tiburon.

RICHARD ZITZMANN of Terra Linda will serve as host when the 250 alumni, parents and friends of Beloit College in Wisconsin have dinner at the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco. The college president will be the speaker.

CAMP FIRE WILL MARK 55 YEARS

Tomorrow the Camp Fire Girls will be 55 years old.

From March 21 through March 27 the more than 600,000 members of the girls organization will be celebrating Birthday Week all over the nation.

Founders day is dedicated to the men and women who organized the national youth group in 1910, particularly to Luther Halsey Gulick, a physician, and his wife.

On this day Camp Fire girls in all 50 states pay tribute to the philosophy, wisdom and vision of the distinguished educators, social scientists and artists who conceived a program with sufficient flexibility to keep pace with girls' needs and interests.

Bringing Up Baby®

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

Not so long ago, an article in a leading newspaper stated that sweet mother-talk was deemed essential for a child's well-being. Isn't it nice to know that the billing and cooing you choose to use to communicate with your baby help his mental development and strengthen his sense of security?

•

A word from Dan Gerber. "Gerber Research reaches into many realms . . . even to the packaging that protects your baby's food. For example, over the years, numerous experiments were conducted to produce cereal packages that would not only protect the delicate flavor of the cereals but also the food values so important to your baby. When you buy Gerber, you're sure of your money's worth in nourishment."

•

Bath reminder. Drying baby thoroughly after his bath is as important as getting him clean. Moisture left in deep creases may cause irritation. By the bye, bathtime is a great time for babbling gaily to your "swimmer." Doubles his splashing enjoyment; puts you in a joyful frame of mind.

•

Rack this one up. An inexpensive spice rack, hung over baby's bath table, makes a dandy, handy, easy-to-reach holder for lotion, powder, cotton, swabs, pins, etc.

•

Lip-smacking lunch or scrumptious supper. That's what baby will have when you titillate his appetite with Gerber High Meat Dinners. Savory? Of course. They have 3 times as much succulent meat as regular vegetable and meat combinations. Flavory? Very. The addition of garden vegetables gives them a wonderfully perky flavor. Veal, Chicken, Turkey, Beef or Ham.

P.S. As a special treat, why not top off baby's high meat dinner with the newest Gerber delectable: Cherry-Vanilla Pudding. Gerber® Baby Foods, Box 72, Fremont, Michigan.

Subdivision Study Sought By Council

The San Rafael City Council found itself hopelessly entangled in engineering details last night as it tried to decide whether the city planning commission made a mistake last month in approving the map of a "north of the hill" subdivision.

Getting the developer's permission to continue the matter, the council referred it to Public Works Director Norris M. Rawles for study.

Marin County had appealed the first decision, in which the planning commission voted 5-2 to approve Twelveoak Hill Unit 5 after two lengthy discussions of its own.

The county wants the city to require Marin Master Builders to dedicate 2.1 acres of land to fit in with plans for widening Lucas Valley Road. The firm contends an alternate road plan, not requiring the dedication, would be better.

Marin County Public Works Director Donald R. Frost pretended his case last night. Then councilmen heard from the developer's attorney, Charles H. Clifford, and engineers from George S. Nolte Consulting Civil Engineers Inc.

Most vocal was engineer Richard Whitney, who went into a series of technical terms and mathematical formulae in his remarks. After a few minutes, councilmen said they were completely lost.

In a less complicated matter, councilmen overruled the planning commission's Feb. 23 denial of a variance permit sought by M. H. Johnson of 706 Belle Avenue for a family room addition to his house.

Convict Freedom Decision Slated

A panel of three judges will decide March 22 whether Fred R. Harris, 45, is to be released from San Quentin Prison pending an appeal by the state of an order to set Harris free permanently.

Federal District Judge Stanley A. Weigel ordered Harris released on a writ of habeas corpus because he had no attorney when he was convicted of armed robbery 11 years ago.

The state attorney general's office filed an appeal of the judge's order but it will probably take at least three months for the appeal to be heard. The three-judge panel will decide what to do with Harris in the interim.

Miller Park, on the way to Dillon Beach, has boat launching and picnic facilities.

Canvas Patch Put On Nude Movie Ad

NEW YORK (AP) — Workmen put a big canvas patch on a giant picture of Jane Fonda reclining nude on a Times Square bill board after an outraged protest from the actress.

The billboard advertises a new movie, "Circle of Love." The advertisement showed Miss Fonda on her stomach on a bed —undraped, until the canvas patch went up yesterday.

Year In Jail For Theft Attempt

A year in county jail and three years probation were given Clifford E. Palmer, 29, yesterday in Marin Superior Court for attempted robbery of Original Fourth Street Liquor Store in San Rafael.

Palmer had pleaded guilty. A second count, armed robbery of Lincoln Market, 1492 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, was dismissed. The defendant, of 523 D Street, San Rafael, was arrested after attempting to rob Paul A. Ricksecker, co-owner of the liquor store at 703 Fourth Street last Sept. 27.

A passenger launch service in Sausalito provides transportation to Angel Island State Park, and picnic units and ranger service are provided there.

Innocent Pleas In Arson Case

Robert A. Kempf, 33, Sausalito, and Michael Mika entered innocent pleas in Sonoma Superior Court last Friday to a charge of arson. Jury trial is scheduled May 4 in the court of Judge Charles McGoldrick.

Kempf, of 595 Bridgeway, and Mika are accused of setting fire to a house in Sonoma Dec. 16.

Assessment Districts Resolutions Passed

The San Rafael City Council last night passed two bundles of resolutions setting in motion the mechanics of forming two assessment districts.

One is the Francisco Boulevard Assessment District; the other is for San Rafael Cayes Unit One.

Councilmen first passed eight resolutions authorizing various details of the San Rafael Cayes district, and setting three related hearings for April 19.

Later, they passed three of six resolutions for the other district but learned that legal details still had not been worked out on the others. They set an adjourned meeting at noon March 22 to pass the last three resolutions.

The council introduced an ordinance updating the city's electrical code. There was no public comment in a hearing on the new code, which was briefly outlined by Building Inspector John Coates.

The San Rafael City Council Also:

1. Voted to buy a five-acre park site at the end of De La Guerra Road, in the city's most northwestern sector, for $32,500. It was formerly part of the Nunes Ranch.
2. Adopted ordinances rezoning the Terra Linda-Lucas Valley area, Loch Lomond Highlands, and a lot at 1487 Lincoln Avenue.
3. Passed to print an ordinance correcting errors in one passed to print March 1, rezoning Glenwood Units Five and Six and other areas.
4. Granted an encroachment permit to builder Douglas M. Christensen to construct a 23-inch triangular planter in the right of way at Las Gallinas Avenue and Northgate Drive.
5. Set an April 19 hearing on vacating an easement in the old alignment of West Railroad Avenue.
6. Set April 5 hearings on rezoning of 320 Third Street from apartment to commercial use, and on Fred Nagle's appeal of planning commission denial of his request to build a six-unit apartment addition at 124 Ross Street.
7. Passed a resolution, at request of the Marin County Development Assn., urging Gov. Edmund G. Brown and the state legislature to finish studies and come to a decision on a second Golden Gate crossing.
8. Received an offer from El Marinero Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, to give about $400 for a grove of trees or other landscaping at the new city hall. Councilmen referred it to the landscape architects to work out details.
9. Welcomed several San Rafael High School students who had spent the day sitting in for city officials.

Planners Give Boost To Underground Lines

The move toward underground utilities got a boost yesterday from the Marin County Planning Commission.

Commissioners recommended approval of an ordinance amendment requiring underground utilities in new subdivisions in unincorporated areas.

After a hearing that centered around the cost of underground installations and who should pay it, the commission passed by 6-1 vote a recommendation under which the subdivider would be responsible for the cost.

Chairman Niels Schultz Jr. cast the dissenting vote, saying the commission should study the possibility of making underground utilities a general requirement, not just a requirement in new subdivisions.

Other commissioners felt that the idea of replacing existing power poles with underground utilities as they become obsolete was a separate problem.

Carl S. Brown, representing Associated Home Builders of San Francisco and Marin, proposed that Pacific Gas and Electric Co. bear the cost of installation. The utility company would save in maintenance and repair costs through underground lines, Brown contended.

Commissioners wondered if the cost of underground utilities could be spread to all PG&E customers in Marin, but decided such a matter was beyond their scope.

E. B. Langley Jr., North Bay division sales manager of PG&E, said the company "operates on the principle that those who benefit pay the cost."

Commissioner Felix M. Warburg contended underground utilities benefit not only the subdivision residents, but also those who view the landscape. He agreed that the "burden on the developer is sort of unfair."

Commissioner Harry Heifetz said he had not heard any strenuous objection from developers or homeowners. "It's high time the county had underground utilities," he said.

Brown asked that the amendment include a provision for exceptions where the partial underground system could be installed. Commissioners said that exceptions would be allowed where conditions are unusual and no special provision would be needed in the amendment.

The commission's recommendation will be sent to the county supervisors next Tuesday for setting of a hearing date.

Planning Director B. D. Dobbs suggested that the commission ask supervisors to initiate a review of PG&E rates by the Public Utilities Commission.

Under present PUC regulations PG&E must provide service on the basis of the lowest cost and "anything further is at cost to the developer," he said. "It won't get changed unless there is a request for a change."

The commission took no action on his suggestion.

Teen-Age Girls Cited For Thefts

Three San Rafael girls, ages 13 and 14, were cited to juvenile authorities on shoplifting charges after they were arrested at 5 p.m. Saturday at Macy's department store, Fourth and Court streets.

Police said officer Phillip D. Green and store security agent Mrs. B. M. Fleming saw them leave without paying for two bags of merchandise. After their arrest, they were found to have other goods allegedly stolen from the Thrifty Drug Store in the Montecito Shopping Center.

Tomales Bay State Park is on the west side of Tomales Bay and the park entrance is three miles north of Inverness.

Rock Thrown

Helen Anderson of 12 Somerset Lane, Mill Valley, reported to police that at 3:45 p.m. Saturday while she was driving south on Miller Avenue near Tamalpais High School, a boy about 10 years old threw a rock which hit her passenger, Elizabeth Whited of San Francisco, in the forehead. No injury was reported to police.

Today is Tuesday, March 16, the 75th day of 1965 with 290 to follow.

The moon is approaching its full phase. The morning star is Mars. The evening stars are Mars and Jupiter.

James Madison, fourth president of the U.S. was born on this day in 1751.

On this day in history:

In 1802, an act of Congress authorized establishment of the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, N.Y.

In 1935, Adolf Hitler scrapped the Versailles Treaty and re-established universal military training in Germany.

In 1945, Japanese resistance on Iwo Jima ended with American casualties totaling more than 20,000, including 4,300 killed.

A thought for the day—Author Nathaniel Hawthorne said: "The black flower of civilized society, a prison."

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

College Players Tested By Part-Score Problem

The annual Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament will be completed early in May when 16 pairs of college students will meet in a two-day duplicate tournament.

The pairs are selected from those who competed last month in the play of 18 hands prepared for the purpose by William Root and Lawrence Rosler, New York experts.

Opening lead — ♠ 8

One hand played in February required the collegians to get to two hearts, the safest contract for North and South.

FIVE SPADES

North's bidding indicates at least five spades, since North would open with one club if he had only four spades.

When South bids two hearts there is no need for North to rebid the spades. South would not bother to bid the hearts if he had support for a good five-card spade suit.

The bidding restraint is important. North would go down at two spades, but South makes two hearts without much difficulty.

MUST FINESSE

When West opens the eight of spades South should play low from the dummy even though he has a singleton.

This finesse gives him two spades tricks later on; he would make only one spade trick if he played dummy's ace.

East wins the first trick with the king of spades and returns a trump. South takes the king of hearts and leads a heart to the ace to draw two rounds of trumps.

TWO DIAMONDS

Declarer then discards two diamonds on the ace and queen of spades, limiting the loss to two diamonds and one trick in each of the other suits.

If South wins the first trick with the ace of spades and returns a diamond, the defenders will return trumps to stop him from ruffing a diamond in dummy.

South will lose no spades, but he will lose all four diamonds, one trump and one club.

Partner opens with one spade, and the next player passes.

What do you say?

Answer: Bid one notrump, showing a weak hand.

Your diamonds are good, but the hand as a whole is not strong enough for a response of two diamonds.

When a Family Buys A Home in Central Marin . . . Where Do They Come From?

Latest Research* shows that 69.7% of home buyers in Central Marin are ALREADY LIVING in the County.

This is a ratio of MORE THAN 3½ to 1 than from San Francisco.

BUYER ORIGIN	%
Marin County	69.7
San Francisco	19.6

- The Prime Market then, for home sales, is Marin itself . . . and the I-J Classified "gets home" to the people who buy the MOST HOMES in Marin . . . Marin families themselves because the I-J covers 2 out of 3 homes in the County.
- The I-J daily circulation in Marin County is GREATER than that of the San Francisco Chronicle and the Examiner COMBINED!!
- NO WASTE — NO HIGH-PRICED SPACE GOING TO NON-PRODUCTIVE AREAS.

When a Family Buys A Home in Northern Marin . . . Where Do They Come From?

Latest research* shows that 71.9% of home buyers in Northern Marin are ALREADY LIVING in the County.

This is a ratio of almost 5 to 1 MORE than from San Francisco.

BUYER ORIGIN	%
Marin County	71.9
San Francisco	14.6

- The Prime Market then, for home sales, is Marin itself . . . and the I-J Classified "gets home" to the people who buy the MOST HOMES in Marin . . . Marin families themselves because the I-J covers 2 out of 3 homes in the County.
- The I-J daily circulation in Marin County is GREATER than that of the San Francisco Chronicle and the Examiner COMBINED!!
- NO WASTE — NO HIGH PRICED SPACE GOING TO NON-PRODUCTIVE AREAS.

When a Family Buys A Home in Southern Marin . . . Where Do They Come From?

Latest Research* shows that 65.9% of home buyers in Southern Marin are ALREADY LIVING in the County.

This is a ratio of MORE THAN 2 to 1 than from San Francisco.

BUYER ORIGIN	%
Marin County	65.9
San Francisco	31.9

- The Prime Market then, for home sales, is Marin itself . . . and the I-J Classified "gets home" to the people who buy the MOST HOMES in Marin . . . Marin families themselves because the I-J covers 2 out of 3 homes in the County.
- The I-J daily circulation in Marin County is GREATER than that of the San Francisco Chronicle and the Examiner COMBINED!!
- NO WASTE — NO HIGH PRICED SPACE GOING TO NON-PRODUCTIVE AREAS.

U.S. Adults' Teeth Appear In Bad Way

By CHARLES SCHAEFFER
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — A new look at the nation's mouth discloses that American adults have a total of two and one-quarter billion decayed, missing and filled teeth.

At least 20 million citizens over 18 years have lost all 32 of their natural teeth. And 10 millioin more struggle along with just half their teeth.

Moreover, about three out of four people display evidence of gingivitis or periodontal disease — inflamed or receding gums — that eventually cause tooth loss.

The estimates are "conservative," according to the U. S. Public Health Service's national health survey. The survey is based on direct dental examinations of 6,653 persons, aged 18 to 80 years, over a two-year period. The results were projected to apply to the nation's entire population of 111 million adults.

Thus, on the average, adults have 20.4 decayed, missing and filled teeth and only 11.6 sound ones, according to the survey.

Toothlessness was found to be directly related to age.

For example, only one person in a 100 aged 18 to 24 lacked all their teeth. But between 65 and 74 every other persons was toothless.

"The average number of filled teeth reached a peak at ages 25-34 and decreased thereafter," the report said. Between 18 and 44 years both men and women displayed an average of seven or eight filled teeth. After that, as the number of teeth diminished, so did countable cavities.

Gum disease leading to tooth loss stems from a number of conditions. But a chief offender, the caking of tartar or plaque, is little understood. Once a layer forms, it opens a path for the entry of disease-causing germs. When a deep-rooted infection develops, it can unanchor the teeth.

After age 35, periodontal disease is the greatest single cause of tooth loss, according to the Natioinal Institutes of Dental Research here. Before that, the chief culprit is neglect of tooth decay.

An earlier survey revealed that nearly 60 per cent of the toothless group had not seen a dentist within five years.

The report also observed: "In each of the age groups under 45 years, approximately the same number of men and women had lost all their teeth in one jaw as in both jaws. At age 45, the per cent of edentulous (toothless) persons increased abruptly and continued to rise in each succeeding age group.

Girl Is Treated At Napa Hospital

A 16-year-old resident of a group home for delinquent girls in San Rafael slashed her wrists and took an overdose of aspirin early Sunday.

The girl, a ward of Marin County Juvenile Court, was treated for wrist cuts at Marin General Hospital and then taken to Napa State Hospital for observation. She was a resident of a group home operated by the Marin Foundation.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

New Approach To Mental Health Patients In Right Direction

VAN DELLEN

The care of those with schizophrenia, the most malignant of all mental disorders, has been revolutionized. Much of the credit goes to phenothiazine drugs and electric,convulsion therapy which have made it possible to control early manifestations of the disease. The change is best described in a British Medical Journal editorial:

"Before the Second World War, nearly two-thirds of the patients admitted to the hospital with this diagnosis would be there two years later. Now less then 10 per cent of those admitted remain after two years, the average length of stay in the hospital is measured in weeks rather than months, and though short periods of readmission are more frequent, the patient can be expected to spend most of his life in the community and for much of this time may be self-supporting."

TREATMENT results in control rather than cure. The latter may come when the cause is known. Many return home and remain so long as they take tranquilizers. A short revisit to the hospital may be needed to smooth off the rough periods (mental breakdowns). Fewer relapses may be expected in the future with the growing popularity of community mental health centers. The advent of day treatment clinics also may lessen the need for hospital care. The patient spends the day in these units and returns home at night.

THERE IS SOME evidence that prolonged institutional care, rather than the disease, was responsible for many residual signs of personality deteriorations that some developed in the past. Some schizophrenics are unable to tolerate demanding or intense relationships.

They are adapted to institutional care and are difficult to rehabilitate. It is possible that the new approach will do away with this chronic outlook. At any rate, we hope that in the future mental hospitals will be in business to cure patients—not to board them.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

ARMPIT GLANDS

M. S. writes: What causes swollen glands under both arms? This condition has been present about two years.

REPLY

Localized swelling usually comes from enlarged, blocked, or infected sweat glands. A diffuse swelling may result from fat or an allergy to deodorants. Generalized diseases such as Hodgkin's or leukemia also are possibilities.

BLACK MEASLES

Mrs. M. R. writes: My 52-year-old father insists he had black measles as a child. Everyone I have asked says there never was such a thing. Please write about so-called black measles.

REPLY

This is a severe form of measles in which the eruption is darker than usual. It is caused by bleeding into the lesion.

ATTACK CONFERS IMMUNITY

Mrs. J. J. writes: Can infectious mononucleosis recur?

REPLY

One attack usually confers everlasting immunity. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflets on infectious mononucleosis.

SKIN CANCER

L. G. writes: Is there any cure for skin cancer? I have one just below the eye.

REPLY

Yes. In general, skin cancers can be cured by surgical removal, X-ray, or radium.

TIGHT THROAT

K. V. writes: Could allergy cause tightening of the throat?

REPLY

This is possible, especially if a hive-like reaction takes place in the throat or larynx.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Johnson, Humphrey Have Prime Time

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—President Johnson and Vice President Humphrey, in separate but consecutive broadcasts, occupied nearly one-and-a-half hours of prime viewing time last night in a rare television occurrence.

For the second time in recent months, the President used the prime time of all three networks to make certain that a major address got a vast audience. On the previous occasion, he gave the first nighttime State of the Union speech in television history, a move that guaranteed him far more viewers than those who formerly tuned in when the address was a daytime event.

Last night, as well as on the first occasion, he spoke to a joint session of Congress in addition to the home audience; the subject was his request for action in connection with Negro voting rights, the starting time was a little past 9 p.m. EST, and he talked for the better part of an hour, after which correspondendents made comments.

Following the live Johnson speech and the newsmen's remarks, CBS-TV presented "Humphrey and the Vice Presidency," a taped half-hour special announced for scheduling eight days ago, well before the Chief Executive's public decision to go on television last night.

Only minutes before, the viewer had seen Humphrey sitting behind the President and listening to his speech, which was delivered with a minimum of fluffs and a great deal of professional control. Among the President's remarks: "There is no Negro problem. There is no Southern problem. There is no Northern problem. There is only an American problem."

THE CHANNEL SWIM: Carol Burnett's CBS-TV show, "The Entertainers," will be replaced April 3 by a one-hour British series about a professional spy, "Secret Agent," which is one of the top 10 programs in England ... One of ABC-TV's planned series for next season, "Honest West," starring Anne Francis as a private eye, will be previewed April 7 as an episode of the same network's "Burke's Law."

Joint Meeting Of Demo Clubs Set At Center

A joint meeting of the Novato Democratic Club and Greater San Rafael Democratic Club will be held at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the supervisors' chamber at the Civic Center.

Mayor Robert D. Carrow and attorney Joseph Forest of Novato will talk on their experiences in Mississippi, where they went to aid the civil rights struggle.

The Marin-to-Mississippi project will be explained by Mrs. Forest and Mrs. Alvin H. Goldstein. They will also speak on the "Befriend a Freedom Family" plan under which food, clothing, and money will be sent to families involved in the civil rights struggle in the South.

Gerald Hill and Jack Rooney, candidates for president of the California Democratic Council, will speak in favor of their candidacies. CDC officers will be elected next week end in Sacramento.

Man Acquitted In Bomb Hoax

DALLAS (AP) — U. S. Dist. Judge Sarah T. Hughes acquitted Leon Gus Kalimos, managing director of the San Francisco Ballet Co., yesterday of violating the bomb hoax law.

The government offered testimony by a pilot and a stewardess that Kalimos, 47, told a stewardess that a bomb had been placed on an American Airlines plane as he boarded here March 19, 1964.

Kalimos said it was a jesting remark about a white plastic typewriter case which has been a frequent subject for jokes.

Another Theater Will Come Down

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Paramount, with its rococo pseudo-California mission facade and 2,750 seats, has become the second casualty among movie houses on San Francisco's Market Street.

Manager Earl Long said yesterday the 43-year-old cinema palace was doomed by modern economics—it's too large to maintain at a profit. He said the Paramount must come down "in the near future."

Air Conditioning Out On Buses

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Sixty new Greyhound commuter buses to go into service sometime next summer will be without air conditioning.

The State Public Utilities Commission yesterday authorized Greyhound to buy the new fleet without air conditioning despite such a recommendation by the PUC staff. Improved ventilation on the new models will be sufficient, a PUC spokesman said.

Greyhound had asked for a quick ruling from the commission because of a factory deadline.

JOE'S FAST-TALKING 'FRIEND' HAS TOO-PERSUASIVE WAYS

The tall man said he was a friend of Joe's

With this introduction, an unidentified man persuaded gas station attendant John M. Ryder to lend him $25 and pump out $2 worth of gas on "credit" Saturday afternoon.

Ryder, who works for Joe's Chevron Station, 1515 Second Street, decided the man was on the level when he offered to telephone the station's owner for verification.

Later, he sadly told police, Ryder realized it had been a hoax.

Merchants Are Alerted To Altered Money Orders

San Rafael police today asked local merchants' aid for information about a man who has been passing altered money orders in the area.

Described as a short, stocky American Indian, the man passed at least two of the money orders at San Rafael sporting goods stores in late February, saying he was from Long Beach and on vacation.

The money orders were bought in Los Angeles. Originally made out for amounts under $5, they were raised by inserting an extra digit with a check writing machine.

Treasure Hunt Plans Bared For Tiburon

Treasure hunting divers are planning to search the bottom of San Francisco Bay off Angel Island looking for fabled silver and gold from the Orient.

The hunt is no fable to Al Mikalow of Coastal Deep Sea Diving Co., Oakland, who says preliminary dives have shown pieces of treasure-bearing ships resting on the bay floor. The waters where he plans to dive are within the boundaries of Marin County and the City of Tiburon.

The company has asked permission of the Army Corps of Engineers to anchor a diving boat off the island. The salvage area proposed is in a circle with a 1,500 foot diameter, about two miles southwest of Point Blunt on the island.

The company's application mentions the H. J. Cochrane, a coastal steam schooner that was struck in 1911 by a Southern Pacific ship, the Seminole.

The Cochrane's safe, containing $96,000, was dumped out of the ship when she turned turtle, Mikalow believes.

Divers also will be looking for Chinese gold and silver which was aboard the Rio de Janiero, which went down in 1901 with all hands aboard, off Lime Point, just outside the Gate.

Divers already have brought up pieces of the Rio de Janiero from near Angel Island and believe tidal action may have pushed the treasure into the bay.

The Corps of Engineers is expected to rule on the diving request in about six weeks, solely on the grounds of whether it would impede navigation.

The "whisky tax," which spurred a rebellion by Western Pennsylvania farmers in 1794, was repeated in 1802 during President Jefferson's administration.

Sausalitans Due Report On Railroad

An 11-page report from Northwestern Pacific Railroad Co. supporting its request to abandon railroad service to Sausalito is to be heard by the Sausalito City Council at its 8 p.m. meeting today.

The council also has before it a letter from Belvedere resident Howard M. Peek asking it to consider a swap of southern Marin railroad property in exchange for a permanent abandonment of San Rafael service.

The City of Tiburon is seeking Sausalito council support of a resolution recommending a second deck on the Golden Gate Bridge and opposing a bridge between San Francisco and Tiburon.

The council will consider one-way street plans for El Portal and Park Street and a proposed layout for Gray Line bus parking areas.

Journal Features Campus Center

A full color drawing of the College of Marin campus center, now under construction at the Kentfield campus, is featured on the cover to this month's edition of Junior College Journal, monthly publication of the American Assn. of Junior Colleges.

A story inside stresses the part students had to play in the design and planning of the building, saying students visited other colleges and made trips to select furniture. The center is expected to open in September.

The completed building will include rooms for student-faculty seminars, study areas, a cafeteria, and rooms for student clubs and offices.
